

EXTREME DRIES WIN A VICTORY

Use All Their Powers to Enforce
Law is Passed

CONFERENCE IS ADJOURNED

Only Two Dissenting Votes on Memorial Addressed to President For Bone Dry Enforcement

By EDWARD C. DERR

West Baden, Ind., Oct. 19.—The
extreme dry wing of the governor's conference won a sweeping victory in
their stand for rigid enforcement of
the prohibition laws just before the
annual conference adjourned here at noon today.

A memorial addressed to President
Coolidge calling for bone dry enforcement of the Volstead act and
pledging every power at the command
of state executives in wiping out liquor law violations, was passed with
but two dissenting votes, and one
governor refused to vote.

Governor Silzer of New Jersey
and Governor Parker of Louisiana
voted against the memorial while Governor Blaine of Wisconsin bolted
the session and refused to cast a ballot.

The memorial said:
"An overwhelming majority of the citizens of the United States are
law-abiding and desirous of the enforcement of law.

"The national government alone
has control of the manufacturing of intoxicants and has a very special
obligation to perform in prohibiting
the importation to this country of
wine and spirituous liquor contrary to the laws of the United States. The individual states are powerless to act in these respects. Therefore, the national government should exercise
its fullest power and authority in dealing with these questions.

"We believe that the chief executive of every state should be zealous
in the enforcement of the prohibition law and should urge upon every state official a strict observance
and enforcement of the same; and

"We believe that the state and
federal officers should cooperate fully
in preventing the violation of our
prohibition laws in making effective
the will of our people in regards to
this enforcement. New conditions impose new responsibility. People who violate one law will the more readily
be guilty of violation of other laws.
Therefore, the individual states

Ethert Swift, Who Was Accused Of Causing Collision Near Arlington,
Found Guilty

UNABLE TO PAY, GOES TO JAIL

Ethert Swift, age 27, 920 East
Market street, Indianapolis, was arraigned in police court Thursday
afternoon before Mayor Thomas, on
three charges which were preferred
by Francis M. Christensen, 1808
Mansfield Ave., Indianapolis, as the
result of an automobile accident 1/2
mile west of Arlington on October 7.
After hearing the evidence,
Mayor Thomas found him guilty on
the charge of unlawfully operating
a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and a fine of $25
and costs, amounting in all to $43,
was assessed. Judgment on the charges of driving with glaring lights
and driving his machine on the wrong
side of the road, was withheld, and
the charges were nolleed.

Several witnesses were introduced.
The prosecuting witness was enroute
to Indianapolis, after attending a family reunion in Franklin county.
Evidence for the state showed that
their machine was on the right side
of the road and that Swift, who was
going east, in passing them crashed
into and sent Christensen's machine
into the ditch. Witnesses testified that Swift was intoxicated. He was unable to pay the fine, and was in jail today, expecting friends from
Indianapolis to come to his rescue.
The case was filed in police court
here, on account of no justice of peace in Arlington.

CONDITION STILL Cruel

Jerry McDaniel of Near Carthage
May Not Recover From Injuries

Jerry McDaniel, who suffered a complete fracture of the skull on the
and ear split, Tuesday evening when
trampled on by a heavy team of horses at the Sipe farm west of Carthage, remains about the same, and
his condition is still regarded as critical.

Mr. McDaniel fell off of a wagon
load of corn, while feeding hogs,
falling between the wagon and the horses. When found by his wife, he
was lying close to the team and
when medical aid was given, the
physicians stated he was unconscious and he remained so for two hours. It is feared that complications
will arise, which may cause the death
of Mr. McDaniel.

PATERNITY CASE EVIDENCE HEARD

Nellie Smith, 40, And Jacob A Brown
65, Are Principals In Court Hearing Held Today

Complains That Wife, Zella Marsh,
Does Not Conduct Herself Properly, And Asks Divorce

The jury today in the circuit court
was hearing the case of the State,
on relation of Nellie Smith, against Jacob A. Brown, a paternity suit,
and it was expected that the evidence would be completed late this afternoon.

The parties reside in the New Salem vicinity. The woman said
she was 40 years old, and the defendant is about 65 years old. The defense was attempting to place the
blame on other men. Several witnesses were called on each side of the case.

The jury which was obtained this
morning, and heard the case today,
was composed of the following men:
Newton P. Jones, William L. Sum-
man, Otis Freeman, Nathan Brown,
Horace Glidden, Frank Megee, Elmer
Gilson, Omer Gartin, William Gro-
cox, Thomas Miller, Marion Wagoner
and Charles Holden.

Among the new cases docketed in
the circuit court is a divorce suit
filed this morning by Charles Marsh,
a drayman of Milroy, against Zella Marsh, in which he alleges that she
was unclean in her house work, would
not stay at home with their 2 children, and that she would not cook his meals.

They were married February 15,
1916 and separated October 19, according to the complaint, and in alleging undue intimacy with other
men, the complaint sets out that on the night of October 17, two young

Good Prices Prevail at S. H. Bowen
Farm Auction Held Near Orange
Thursday

SOW AND PIGS BRING $102

The big sale of S. H. Bowen, held
at his farm near Orange Thursday,
brought good prices in all respects,
according to Mr. Bowen, who reported that one sow and pigs brought $102 and a Holstein cow of exceptional value was bid in at $152.

His sale included 55 head of Big
Type Poland Chinas, and every hog
sold well. Farming implements also offered for sale were bid in at good
prices.

A feature of the sale was two lots
of growing corn, in which one section of 9 1/2 acres brought $41.50 an acre and another section of seven
acres brought $40 an acre, and these prices topped the list for corn prices
in that vicinity.

In the B. V. Miller and Son's sale,
held near Arlington Wednesday, the
prize male hog, number 2, a fall yearling that weighed 540 pounds, was sold to Walker and Buell, hog raisers of Adams, Ind.

THE FRIEND IN NEED

"APRIL" HAS A WELL LAID PLOT

Work On Comedy Is Rapidly Round-
ing Into Shape For Initial Appearance

TICKETS ARE GOING FAST

Promises To Be One Of The Biggest Hits Ever Put On In Local
Amateur Dramatics

The work on "April" the home talent show to be put on at the Graham
annex auditorium Thursday and Friday of next week, is rapidly rounding into shape for its first appearance on the stage. All members of the cast have completely mastered
their parts both as to memorization
and stage bearing, impersonations,
etc. They have had a remarkably short time in which to learn their
parts and have accomplished it like
veterans, it is asserted.

It is to be remembered that this
will be the first appearance of this
comedy on any stage and the local
patrons of amateur dramatics are
reminded they should feel it a privilege and novel experience seeing the
initial production of a play by such
a writer as Kenyon Nickolson, no
matter how good it may be, but those who have any knowledge of the story
but what it will make a great hit
on any stage if properly conducted
and directed.

The play itself has a charming as
well as very humorous plot through-
out. It is not the "ordinary" "wishy-washy" sort that can be doped out
from beginning to end, but has a very interesting story and interesting and humorous lines that should hold the
interest and attention of the audience from the time that the curtain
goes up for the first time until it
goes down for the last time.

The scene is laid in the living room
of "Rockmere," the Barrington home
and never changes throughout the show.

The time is the present, and the
thread of the story is as follows:
"Richard Barrington, the pampered offspring of a dignified old family, has fallen in love with 'Tot', Marvel, an actress. He has announced his intentions of bringing
her home to present her to his people for their approval. In the meantime, however, she figures in a wild
adventure in New York and does not appear on the scene at the scheduled
time. With this situation in hand
and no apparent way out, April
Blair, a book agent, comes to the

LEGION IN LAST SESSION Election Of Officers And Celebration Scheduled For Today

San Francisco, Oct. 19. — The fifth annual convention of the American Legion convened for its last session today. Election of officers
and the national executive committee, and the grand celebration are scheduled for its closing activities.

The convention passed the anti-
Ku Klux Klan resolution after debate late yesterday. While the convention did not mention the klan particularly, it mentioned secret organizations or groups wearing masks.

St. Paul was selected for the next convention.

as Likely Choice of Teachers

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19.—Election of W. A. Denny, superintendent
of the public schools at Anderson, as president of the Indiana state teachers' association, was generally conceded today by delegates to the annual convention here.

The election will be held at the business meeting in Caddie tabernacle
at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Despite the statement of Benjamin Burris, state superintendent of public instruction, that he would not permit his name to be presented as a candidate for the presidency of the association, friends of Burris insisted that this name would go before
the floor of the convention.

With sectional meetings out of the
way, teachers centered their attention upon the general business meetings at the tabernacle. Dr. Arthur Dean, New York, spoke on the "Seven
Ages of Education" and Miss Ada
Ward, of London, gave an address
on "You Americans" at the morning
session.

Luncheons of graduates of various
colleges and universities were scheduled for noon.

LEAGUE A BANKRUPT

Indianapolis, Ind., October, 19.—
The cooperative League of America, operating in sixteen cities and with headquarters at Portland, Ind., was adjudged bankrupt in federal court here today. A receivership in equity against the league is pending in federal court.

Promised State Of Seige Will Be Extended Over Germany So As
Not To Favor Bavaria

Ten Thousand War Cripples And Unemployed Storm Bakeries, Demanding Loaf For Each

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Oct. 19.—Socialists, whose
threat of a general strike helped to
force the federal government to back
down before defiant Saxony, dragged
another concession from the Stress-
mann cabinet today.

Promise that the state of seige
was to be extended over all of Germany so as not to favor Bavaria in
her quarrel with Saxony was made
when the Socialists demanded the state of seige be lifted. The government also offered to withdraw General Von Loshow, dictator of Bavaria.

A mob of more than ten thousand war cripples and unemployed today stormed bakeries in the suburb of Neu Koelln.

Leaders demanded a loaf for each
of the men and offered pledges of
their government pensions in pay-

Bakers granted the request when government officials gave their consent.

National Dictator Gessler's dispatch of added troops to Saxony
where the elements of civil war
fumed was interpreted here today
as a graceful exit from the central government's threats.

Disbandment of the "red hundreds" communist military organization of Saxony ordered by Gessler,
was said privately by high army officers to be impossible unless troops
came to the aid of police.

Doubt that the government would
now feel itself strong enough to use
the army against a recalcitrant state
was expressed in well informed quarters today.

Socialist threats of a general
strike throughout the country if the
government used the army against
a state were openly made. Along with this antagonism of Stinnes and
the other big industrialists were
thought to have left the government
practically powerless.

Cabinet's Arrest Ordered

E. B. THOMAS AND WIFE VISIT HERE

Former Rushville Banker Glad To Get Back To His Old Home For A Short Stay

WILL REMAIN A MONTH

Mr. Thomas Says Worth Of Federal
Land Bank In Porto Rico Has Already Been Proved

Ernest B. Thomas, of San Juan,
Porto Rico, formerly of Rushville,
together with Mrs. Thomas, arrived
here shortly before noon today and
will visit relatives and friends in this vicinity until about the middle of November.

Mr. Thomas, who has been in San Juan for the past eighteen months as head of the United States federal
land bank, is in this country on a
two months leave of absence and will
return to his work by December 1.
Most of the time, he will spend visiting, but he will return to Washington about the middle of November
for a conference with the federal land bank board. Mr. Thomas met with the board soon after his arrival
in this country.

The former Rushville banker asserted that his new work was very interesting, but that it was likewise
very exacting because of the vast amount of it and the intricacies of
the land titles on the island. Mr.
Thomas said that the worth of the
bank to the people of Porto Rico
might be understood when it was
known that requests had been made
for $5,000,000 in loans during the first year the bank was establish-
ed. Based on conservative estimates, it was not expected that the demand would run over one million dollars.

Some legislation has been enacted
and more is in the course of enactment. Mr. Thomas stated, that will make the business of the federal
land bank less complicated. There is an office force of fourteen in the bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were met in Washington by Mrs. James E. Wat-

DRASTIC ACTION IN BRIBE CASE PROMISED

Eleven Are Arrested In Gigantic
Conspiracy To Flood New York
With Booze

New York, Oct. 19.—Drastic action today was promised by United States District Attorney Hayward,
following arrest of eleven men in a gigantic bribery conspiracy to secure protection from prohibition
agents.

A daring attempt to flood New York with New Jersey beer started with a $1,000,000 bribe put up by
New Jersey brewers, declared
Hayward.

The brewers, Hayward said, had
protection not only from the law,
but rival brewers in Pennsylvania
who were attempting to cut in on the New York business.

Arrest of the eleven men in a
hotel where they had met to meet
federal agents to pay the protection
money followed close on the heels of padlock injunctions against fifty
four New York saloons by Hayward
who estimates there are two thousand saloons in New York openly

TOUR IS PLACED ON "DAY" BASIS

Plans Not Made For Lloyd George
to His Condition

"PACE THAT KILLS," HE SAYS

Former British Premier Spends Day
in St. Louis And Leaves Tonight

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

With Lloyd George, Enroute to St.
Louis, Oct. 19.—Two weeks of American "campaigning" have done more
to undermine the health of David
Lloyd George than all the nerve shattering, health wrecking years of the war, and the multiplied problems of
the reconstruction period.

Lloyd George says so himself.
"This," he said, "is the pace that
kills. No wonder you public men die,
if they must undergo this sort of
thing, as I am told they must."

By "this sort of thing," Lloyd
George meant the rear platform
speeches, public luncheons, dinners
and receptions, "circuit parade" rides
through crowded streets acknowledging the plaudits of cheering crowds;
shaking hands, writing autographs,
posing for photographs and still more
photographs, and all other incident-
als of a speech-making tour in America.

As the result of a very definite fear
that an attempt to carry through the program mapped out for his tour
would cause a breakdown, or at least a serious straining of his physical resources, Lloyd George's tour
is today on a "day" basis. Plans are not being made longer than 24 hours
ahead and not that far in most cases.
From now until he sails back to England, Lloyd George will commit
himself only to such engagements
as he feels he can keep without hurting himself.

Lloyd George and Dame Margaret,
his wife, who is the guardian of his health and well being, explained that
the reason he was able to come
through the war with its terrible
strain on physical and mental powers
without serious impairment of his health was that every so often he
would steal away to Wales for a few
days and get close to his mother
earth. On these occasions, he would go away into the mountains, perhaps
with his wife and daughter and the
three of them would camp in a tent
for a few days. Lloyd George always
returned from such holidays thor-

Sells Stock In Pinnell-Tompkins
Lumber Co. To Robert L. Tom-

Robert I. Tompkins has purchased the stock of Julius K. Pinnell
of Indianapolis in the Pinnell-Tomp-
kins Lumber company of this city
and will become the sole owner of the
business, it became known today.

Negotiations looking toward the
dissolution of the business connections of the two men, of more than twenty years duration, have been
under way for several days, but
the transaction did not take place
until Thursday, and Mr. Pinnell will retire from the firm Saturday night.
The stock will be invoiced next week.
Mr. Tompkins, who entered the
business with Mr. Pinnell April 18, 1903, said he had not decided what
the name of the concern would be
with the retirement of Mr. Pinnell.
It also has not been determined
whether it will be continued as a
stock company.

The lumber company was estab-
ago by J. P. Huffman and Mr. Pin-
nell. Successive partners of Mr.
Pinnell's, following the retirement
of Mr. Huffman, were Mr. Kemper, John
Engler and W. D. Root. After Mr.
Root left the firm, Mr. Pinnell conducted the business alone for a few years before Mr. Tompkins became associated with him. Mr. Pinnell
has other retail lumber interests in the state.

 But on this American tour, he finds himself confronted with a new set of experiences and conditions. He can't run away. He's hedged in by cheering crowds wherever he goes. The only place he can rest is in a hotel room, whose quiet is disturbed by shrieking of traffic policemen's whistles and the roar of cities. On the train, he gets little rest because at every station people yell and whistle until he appears.

He tries going to his compartment on the train, or his room in the hotel with a dozen books, to shut out the world and rest by reading. He reads far into every night, and then Dame Margaret tries to make him take a nap in the day time. These naps have been seriously interfered with, and it is this breaking up of his cherished routine that has fatigued Lloyd George.

When Lloyd George discovered that some of the correspondents travelling with him accompanied President Harding on his last trip, he plied them with questions concerning that trip. He wanted to know all about it. Previously they had been warned by some of his secretaries not to talk to him about the Harding program, for fear of frightening him. "I didn't come over here to make a speech-making trip," said Lloyd George, talking it over. "But I find myself in the midst of something like a political campaign. I confess, it rather appeals to me."

The Lloyd George train was due in St. Louis at 9:05 a. m. today. After a drive about the city, he was to go to the Statler hotel, where a public luncheon will be tendered him, at which he was to speak. He will dine privately this afternoon leaving for Louisville this evening.

THINK OF FORD AS BUSINESS MAN

Prohibition Problem Placed Squarely Before Executives At Conference In Closed Session

By EDWARD C. DERR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

West Baden, Ind., Oct. 19.—Voters in thirty states of the union have not yet seriously considered the proposed candidacy of Henry Ford for president, their governors told the United Press today.

Ford, they said, has many staunch friends throughout the country but there has thus far been no tendency on their part to launch a Ford-for-president boom.

This is due, in the opinion of the governors, to the fact that Ford is regarded first and always as a business man and not as a politician or a "logical" man for the presidency.

"Ford is a popular figure in North Dakota and throughout the north-west generally," said Governor Nestos of North Dakota. "However, a presidential boom for him has not yet blossomed in that section of the nation. Ford might show up as a strong candidate in the northwest if the other candidates at the primaries are old guard politicians. The farmers are demanding economic relief, and will look to the man they think can get it for them."

"Ford has gained popularity among the coal miners of West Virginia by the manner in which he has operated the mines he owns," said Governor Morgan, "but that does not imply that the miners would be solid for him in a presidential race."

Throughout the south, apparently, the Ford-for-president proposal has gained little headway. Governor Brandon of Alabama said that so far as he knew, there was no Ford sentiment in his state. Governor Peay of Tennessee expressed the same opinion.

"I have not heard Ford's name mentioned in my state in connection with the presidency," said Governor Walker of Georgia.

However, many governors at the conference generally believe President

Coolidge will make good during the coming winter and have the unanimous support of the party for the nomination. It was significant that the Republican governors mentioned no other name in connection with the 1924 presidential race.

In New England, particularly, the Coolidge sentiment is strong.

"The New England states will be solid behind Coolidge," declared Governor Mabey of Vermont. "The people of New England know Coolidge and have faith in the way he will conduct himself under fire."

Governor Cox of Massachusetts, Baxter of Maine, and Templeton of Connecticut, endorsed the remarks of Governor Mabey.

Democratic governors said that the names of Senator Underwood of Alabama, Senator Ralston of Indiana and William G. McAdoo are being discussed most frequently by their constituencies for the democratic nomination.

"Alabama is behind Senator Underwood, of course," said Governor Brandon. He said Ralston seemed to be next in favor among the Alabama democrats.

Governor McLeod of South Carolina said his state favored Underwood, with McAdoo as a probable second choice.

The sentiment among Democrats in New Jersey is for Governor Al Smith of New York, Governor Silzer said.

should share with the federal government the duty and responsibility of enforcing the eighteenth amendment.

"We pledge you as governors our fullest cooperation in this effort." The resolution which was endorsed by practically every governor at today's session, came as a compromise after several of the state executives flatly refused to sign a memorial expressing sympathy with the Volstead law.

The prohibition problem was placed squarely before the governors for the first time late yesterday. In a two hour executive session the governors engaged in heated debate over a memorial on prohibition proposed by Governor Sweet of Colorado to be sent to President Coolidge before the executives leave this afternoon for Washington to meet the President tomorrow.

Governors of wet tendencies strenuously opposed the memorial as drafted by Governor Sweet. They objected particularly to the last paragraph of the memorial which, they thought, would put them on record as saying that the eighteenth amendment had distinctly bettered conditions in their states.

They pointed to widespread bootlegging and other evils which they said had grown out of prohibition.

The memorial was returned to Governor Sweet who, with Governors Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Trinkle of Virginia, redrafted it and present it for final consideration at the closing session today.

PRAYER IN THE MORNING:
—My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto Thee, and will look up.—Psalms 5: 3.

Dry Law Enforcement

Though advance notices predicted that prohibition enforcement would be a leading topic of the governors' conference, in session at West Baden, it did not come up until late yesterday, and then the discussion was behind closed doors.

If the disposition on the part of some governors to play politics with enforcement were eliminated, there is little doubt but that more effective co-operation would be brought about between the states and federal government.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania is a notable example of a governor who is trying to use prohibition for personal aggrandizement. He recently made a very brazen statement regarding the responsibility of the federal government for the lax enforcement of prohibition and sought to clear his skirts. The Pennsylvania governor has found, however, that such tactics are not popular, especially with federal judges.

A Pennsylvania federal judge pointed out, after Pinchot's late flare-up on prohibition, that if the governor were a sincere friend of enforcement, he would try to relieve the federal courts instead of pushing all liquor cases to them, and thus make more certain that justice would be impartially meted out.

"Responsibility for enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment is first with municipal and county officials, then with state officials," Commissioner Haynes says. "It is contemplated by the Eighteenth Amendment that the smaller violations be handled by local agencies, and that larger matters, such as conspiracies, sources of supply, fraudulent withdrawals, etc., be handled, in the main, by federal authorities."

One of the vital problems is the proper coordination of these various agencies, and Commissioner Haynes is gratified that in addition to the ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment and passage of appropriate enforcement legislation by forty-six states, progressive legislation has, within the past year, been adopted by twenty-eight states. In Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland and Mississippi the legislatures did not meet, while attempts in Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin to weaken, modify or repeal state codes, by legislation or referendum, failed.

A summary of recent legislation shows that in the states of Arizona, Arkansas and Florida acts were passed penalizing persons who operate motor vehicles while intoxicated, while in Iowa, Vermont and Virginia penalties previously provided for this offense were increased. The legislatures of Colorado and Ohio strengthened their "padlock" laws, which has proved such an effective weapon in the hands of enforcement officials throughout the country, while the new law which superseded the Womer Act in Pennsylvania provides for drastic "padlock" proceedings. This new law also provides for the abolition of licenses for so-called saloons and three-year penitentiary sentence for first offenders (covering all offenses). Increased penalties for second violation were provided by legislation passed in Vermont and Virginia. Several states enacted legislation during the last year making purveyor of liquor from the drinking of which death results, guilty of murder. The states passing such legislation are Florida, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Tennessee.

The first offense of possessing or using a still for manufacturing liquor was declared to be a felony in Indiana, Kansas, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon and West Virginia, while the Washington legislature strengthened this provision of the law. Maine enacted legislation making conspiracy to sell intoxicating liquor a felony for the first offense, while Minnesota made the same provision with regard to the sale of liquor to a minor. The legislatures of Indiana, Oregon, and Texas made it a penitentiary offense for liquor law violators to carry concealed weapons. Maine, Montana, and Pennsylvania enacted legislation providing for the seizure of vehicles containing liquor, while Florida strengthened her search and seizure law, increasing the penalties. Laws were enacted in Nebraska and Wyoming strengthening the provisions of the state code with reference to the removal of derelict officials. The South Carolina legislature passed an act empowering the government to appoint deputies, constables, and detectives to aid in enforcement. Nebraska enacted legislation making the destruction of evidence prima facie evidence of guilt. North Dakota eliminated the weak features of the state code, and adopted a resolution petitioning Congress not to weaken the National Prohibition Act. California and North Carolina each adopted a new code, incorporating substantially the National Prohibition Act and Massachusetts adopted a code, subject to referendum.

It is desired that many of the laws which have proved of especial benefit in some states be uniformly adopted, and laws which make the buyer as well as the seller amenable, and which provide for the forfeiture of citizenship papers or deportation of foreign violators, and uniform extradition for violators, standardization of essential evidence, etc., be enacted.

Current Comment

(Davenport, Iowa Times)

Senator Smith W. Brookhart's stock in trade is verbal trickery and deceit. He is a stout believer in Barnum's well known axiom that the American people like to be fooled, but the truth of the assertion that "You may fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time," may be painfully impressed upon him before long.

E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, publisher of Successful Farming and former secretary of agriculture, addressing a Davenport audience yesterday, declared the only purpose of his suit for 30 cents against the colonel was to show him up.

He cited as one wilful misrepresentation on the part of the junior senator, his denial that the war finance corporation loaned money to the distressed farmers of the middlewest. That the colonel could not lead ignorance of the matter in which this financial assistance was extended, was revealed in the statement of Mr. Meredith that the law firm of which Brookhart is a member, was the attorney for the one bank in Washington, Iowa, to secure such aid, and his brother a director of the institution. He cited records of the war finance corporation showing that only one of the four banks of the senator's home town found it necessary to use the corporation's funds to tide it over the period of depression, that being the Farmers and Merchants State bank, with which the Brookharts are connected and which borrowed a total of $46,313.60 from this federal agency.

Yet Senator Brookhart, speaking at Jewell, two days after Mr. Meredith had issued a statement to the Associated Press to the effect that the farmers of Iowa borrowed approximately $24,000,000 two years ago and that $17,000,000 of the principal sum, with interest, had already been paid, in reply to the former cabinet member said:

"The most amazing part of Mr. Meredith's statement is the war finance corporation figures. He prates about my inaccuracies and then says the farmers of Iowa borrowed $24,000,000 two years ago from the war finance corporation. In fact, the farmers did not borrow one cent from this corporation. The war finance corporation is a Wall Street controlled institution that lends only to banks and selected cooperatives. These Iowa loans were all to banks. It made its red tape and rules of securities so offensive that the banks have paid off $17,000,000 of these loans."

Now what are the facts about this "Wall Street controlled" institution. Senator Brookhart knows as well as anyone else who has given the slightest attention to federal legislation in relationship to the farmer, that the war finance corporation was continued in order to finance the rural producers. The loans were made to banks because the difficulties which would have attended direct loans would have been unworkable. These loans were made only when the applications were based upon agricultural paper. It made no difference how good the borrower's security was, he could not borrow from this branch of the government unless he was carrying loans on agricultural paper to an equal amount. The whole purpose of the act, under which the corporation functioned, was to aid agriculture.

If we are reluctant about charging the senator with ignorance of a law with which he should be fully conversant, then he must stand guilty of the most pernicious form of dishonesty, that of withholding from those who give him respectful attention, the facts as they are known to exist.

Mr. Brookhart has a poor regard, indeed, for the farmers and the voters of the state generally, if he believes they can be misled by "senatorial deceit" which is so plainly apparent as it is in the instance cited by Mr. Meredith.

HEAVY SCHEDULE PREPARED

Season Opens Nov 16 With Middletown at Newcastle And With
Game Also at Hagerstown

Newcastle, Ind., Oct. 19.—The Newcastle high school basketball season will open with two games on November 16, one to be played on the local floor against Middletown and the other at Hagerstown with the Wayne county netters as opposition. The first practice is scheduled to be held Monday evening November 12, or the next Monday after the last football game of the season at Marion, is played on Saturday. Twenty-eight games are on this year's schedule, and although the Indiana High School Athletic Association ruling states that no school in the association can have over twenty games on their schedule, the local school has a new plan.

Until the first school term of the year ends (the high school will have two first teams, and after that period a regular first and second team will be picked. It is the plan of high school athletic officials to have at least four teams, if the local green and white athletes will respond. There are at least fifty boys in the local high school that know the first principles of basketball and even if they don't, when Coach Murray Mendenhall makes his initial call for basketball men next month, every high school boy is urged to turn out. As to the number Principal Valentine of the high school makes the statement, that, "they would rather have a hundred men out than the small number that usually show up, although practice room is limited.

Mr. Valentine is satisfied that N. H. S. has been relying too much on a certain small bunch of athletes, in the past years, and it is the plan to do away with so much of this.

On these two first teams the best material will be as equally divided as possible, and on the first game night one team will be taken to Hagerstown and the other team will remain at home. The team making the trip will not be chosen by its strength. With this new plan it will make it possible for players who are not so good to play with men who are much better than themselves, thus they will get a greater amount of experience. In previous years if a man didn't make the squad for the first game he generally dropped out.

The third and fourth teams will be used as second teams for the two firsts. It is not known yet whether or not a league between local high school net teams will be held, but something in this line will be taken up.

With Starbuck, Dann, Harlan, Fred, and Gauger of last year's aggregation and an abundance of new material in school this year Newcastle should have a whirlwind team. Among the new men are Pete Jennings, Ernie Linberry, high school football player, Johnnie Goggsell, Red Rozell, Floyd Plummer, Marvel Tarr, and a number of others. It is not known yet who will act as assistant coach to Mendenhall this season.

The schedule is bigger and better than ever this season, and there are six teams, who have not been on the green and white schedule for some time. They are Elwood, Technical of Indianapolis, Greencastle, both here and there, Greenfield, Shelbyville, and Mooreland. The schedule is as follows:

- Nov. 16—Hagerstown there.
- Nov. 16—Middletown, here.
- Nov. 23—Hartford City, there.
- Nov. 24—Mooreland, here.
- Nov. 28—Lewisville, there.
- Nov. 30—Rushville, here.
- Dec. 7—Knightsdown, there.
- Dec. 8—Marion, here.
- Dec. 14—Spiceand, here.
- Dec. 15—Cadiz, there.
- Dec. 21—Middletown, there.
- Dec. 21—Muncie, there.
- Dec. 28—Richmond, there.
- Dec. 31—Greencastle, here.
- Jan. 4—Elwood, there.
- Jan. 5—Marion, there.
- Jan. 11—Spiceand, there.
- Jan. 12—Technical, here.
- Jan. 18—Mooreland, there.
- Jan. 19—Connersville, here.
- Jan. 25—Muncie, here.
- Feb. 1—Greenfield, here.
- Feb. 1—Cadiz, here.
- Feb. 8—Shelbyville, here.

NEWSY GOSSIP IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

FOOTBALL, BASKETBALL
BOTH GET UNDER WAY

Big Day on Gridiron Tomorrow

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 19.—With the idea of furnishing a program of general merit, large kicks and generous thrills, nothing could have been ordered better than the football schedule which will be played tomorrow all over the country.

The most interesting game, perhaps, on a schedule that is filled with hard contests and colorful spectacles, is the battle to be fought at Princeton between the Princeton Tigers and the "Micks" from Notre Dame, who are to make their second big shot in the east.

Princeton and Notre Dame will bring into action the most modern kind of play. Both are up-to-date and versatile and both are great opportunists. With a great backfield playing behind a very ordinary and, at times, a very poor line, the Tigers will not be represented by an eleven of the 1922 calibre, while Notre Dame is always powerful.

Both Princeton and Notre Dame are among the greatest football institutions in the country. On successive Saturdays, Notre Dame had game arranged with the Army, Princeton, Georgia Tech, Purdue and Nebraska, while the Tigers assumed a tremendous load in taking on in succession Georgetown, Notre Dame, Navy, Swarthmore, Harvard and Princeton.

Feb. 8—Lewisville, here.
Feb. 15—Knightsdown, here.
Feb. 16—Connersville, there.
Feb. 22—Greencastle, there.
Fred Bills, of Lewisville, H. E. Miller of Anderson, and Harry Schoonman, of Indianapolis, will officiate the home games.

Midwest Grid Briefs

Chicago—Fears of the Northwestern offense caused Coach Stagg to drive the Chicago team through long defensive drill.

Evanston, Ill.—Northwestern was allowed no let-up in practice yesterday although forced to drill in ankle-deep mud.

Madison—Wisconsin ran through light signal drill today en route to Bloomington, Ind., where they meet Indiana Saturday.

South Bend, Ind.—Notre Dame fans will watch the Princeton-Notre Dame game play-by-play on an electric grid-iron.

Bloomington—Indiana expects to profit from a wet playing field in the Wisconsin game tomorrow. Little aerial work was given today in the final practice.

Pittsburgh, another eleven that arranges schedules on the theory "give us a hard game to start with and make them harder as they come" has another vow of a game with the powerful Syracuse team.

Pittsburgh started the season with Bucknell, followed with Lafayette and West Virginia, has Syracuse tomorrow and then takes on Carnegie Tech, Pennsylvania, Washington and Jefferson, and Penn State.

The Navy, which has been having plenty of trouble all season, will be sure to find some more when the Midshipmen venture to Penn State for their first game of the season away from home. Hugo Bezdek always has the Penn State teams well equipped, even if the material at hand now is not as spectacular as it was two and three years ago when Penn State was ruling the eastern coast.

In narrowly missing some bumps in the early games, the Navy, no doubt, was handicapped by the absence of Steve Barchet, the star back, and also by an unexplained inability to get in form. It might have been that the midshipmen thought too well of themselves, but this malady, if such, should have been cured by this time.

The powerful Cadet eleven from West Point returns tomorrow to its duel with the south by playing the Alabama Poly team. The Cadets disposed of Tennessee and Florida in the opening games of the season.

Iowa City, Ia.—Iowa walked through its complicated plays today for the last time before meeting Illinois.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Captain Kipke, Michigan was drying 60 and 65 yard spirals down the field today on the eve of the Ohio State tilt.

Lafayette, Ind.—Anticipating a wet field tomorrow Purdue went through only straight football plays today.

Rumor That His Body Is Covered

GIVEN TRIAL WORKOUT TODAY

Appearance Of American Horses On Track This Morning Big Surprise
To Turf Men

(By United Press)
Laurel Race Track, Md., Oct. 19.—My Own, Admiral T. Grayson's 3-year old left here in a special car at 9:05 a. m. for Belmont Park race track.

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Belmont Park Race Track, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Lumps have broken out over the body of Zev, which was to have met Papyrus in the international stake race tomorrow.

This information was obtained by the United Press today from a personal representative of Major August Belmont.

My Own, Admiral Carey T. Grayson's crack 3-year old, is almost certain to go to the barrier and meet the English derby winner Saturday afternoon.

Announcement to this effect is expected from the Jockey Club later today.

The sickness, of a nature as yet undisclosed, which attacked Harry F. Sinclair's Zev on the eve of the greatest international horse race in years struck suddenly Thursday. This accounts for the fact that Zev was not shown to the public yesterday.

Prominent veterinarians are examining the Sinclair colt. On the whole of Zev's body the mysterious lumps appeared. The veterinarians will give their decision later.

Papyrus is ready to meet My Own if it is found that the contract under which the English horse was brought here provides for such an eleventh hour substitution.

Sam Hildreth, Zev's trainer, would not comment on the condition of his horse.

Papyrus had a brisk canter this morning and pulled up very fit. He will not work again before the race.

Those who bet on Zev were thrown into confusion by the possibility of a substitute and there were many arguments as to whether the bets placed on Zev would stand as made on My Own in case the Grayson colt replaced the Sinclair star.

Despite the announcement of lumps from which Zev is suffering the American horse appeared on the track at about ten minutes past nine and worked half a mile at a gallop in 47 seconds.

As he passed the stands Zev showed no signs of the reported malady, but he was hustled around the turn and back to the Rancocas stables before any of the turf men who remained at the track had an opportunity for a close look at him.

The workout, which was a swift gallop, came as a complete surprise and only a handful of clockers and newspapermen were at the rails.

Zev's gallop was not particularly

impressive but he went along well with Laverns Factor up.

The run made tomorrow's program all the more uncertain. Where early in the morning the statement concerning lumps that appeared on the horse's body led everyone to expect My Own would be substituted, the appearance of the Sinclair colt made it possible that he might yet go to the post.

PAPYRUS REPRESENTS HIGHEST PRICE IN BLOOD

Horse to Represent England in Race
For Three-Year-Old Champion-
ship of World October 20

SON OF FAMOUS TRACERY

New York, Oct. 19.—Blue blood may be found in the veins of other aristocrats of the equine set, but certainly no higher price blood can be found than is represented in Papyrus, the English Derby winner, who is to represent England in the race for the three-year-old championship of the world, at Belmont Park, on October 20.

The father of Papyrus was Tracery, who was sold by August Belmont, the American turfman, at the age of 18 months, to an Argentine sportsman for $265,000, the highest price ever paid for a horse.

The dam of Papyrus was Miss Matty, by Marcovil, out of Simonath, Papyrus was foaled at Worksop, Nottinghamshire, at the breeding farm of Sir John Robinson. At the Doncaster sales in 1921 he was sold to Benjamin Irish, gentleman farmer of Lincolnshire, for 3,500 guineas.

The grandfather of Papyrus was Rock Sand, Kentucky Derby winner, who was sold later for $150,000 the second highest price ever paid for a horse.

The family tree on his dam's side traces back to the famous St. Simon and Ormonde strain and it crosses with the great Eclipse, one of the greatest of them all.

Papyrus is a beautiful animal. His conformation is almost perfect, although some super-critics have remarked that his head is "rather coarse". For an animal of such unusual breeding, he is very mild-mannered, kindly-disposed and extremely sensible.

KANSAS CITY HAS EDGE

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 19.—The Baltimore and Kansas City baseball teams were enroute to Baltimore today to complete their minor league world's series. By winning Thursday's game 5 to 2, Kansas City now has a lead in games of 3 to 1.

SHOWERS FOR RACE

New York, Oct. 19.—Showers were forecast for Saturday, day of the international horse race, by the weather bureau here today. Admiral Grayson, owner of My Own, which may be called on to race the English horse has heretofore stipulated that he will not permit his horse to race on a wet track.

BEST BLOOD IN WORLD

Has Had Splendid Record in Racing
Since June 1922 and May Set
Pace in Coming Classic

New York, Oct. 19.—Zev, the three-year-old son of The Finn and Miss Kearney, that is to carry the American standard against Papyrus in the $100,000 international championship race, is generally regarded by turfmen as the outstanding American colt since the great Man o' War started setting the marks for the equine posterity to shoot at.

The good looking Rancocas colt in two seasons on the turf has won $174,913 and he seems almost sure to go beyond the record of Man o' War, whose earnings of $249,465 made him the greatest winner of the American turf.

Zev, like his illustrious opponent in the coming race, is a royally bred colt. In his veins is some of the best blood in the world. His is by The Finn—Miss Kearney, his sire having been a famous stake winner in his day. The Finn's sire and dam were Ogden and Livonia, while Miss Kearney is by Planudes—Court Plaster. Ogden and Livonia carry to Zev the blood lines of such famous racers as Ben D'Ore, Isinglass, Rayon d'Or, Doncaster and Isonomy, while through Planudes and Court Plaster he has the strains of the blood of Galopin and St. Simon.

Zev has had a splendid racing record from June 14, 1922, when he made the first start of his career under colors, to Sept. 8 this year, when he won the Lawrence Realization. Bred by John E. Madden, by The Finn—Miss Kearney, his sire acquired at Saratoga by the Rancocas Stable, with another yearling, for a price of $12,500. His first start was in a condition race at five furlongs, but Trainer Hildreth declared to win with his stablemate, Whirlwind and Zev was beaten.

Zev was rather slow to reach his best form, although in his twelve starts as a two-year-old he was unbeaten only once. It was during the Saratoga meeting that the brown colt shone as a two-year-old, winning five straight races. The Grand Union Hotel Stakes was his first classic. He followed this victory by taking the Albany Handicap. In the Hopewell he was third to Dunlin and Goshawk, while in the Futurity he was kicked at the post and was beaten by Sally's Alley. This injury ended his two-year-old racing, as Hildreth was forced to throw him out of training.

The three-year-old history of the handsome brown colt is familiar to all followers of thoroughbred racing. His opening endeavor was auspicious. He made his debut on the first day of the metropolitan season at the Jamaica track and won the Pannonek Handicap at six furlongs, carrying 109 pounds and beating Dominique by a neck in a great finish.

His second start was in the Preak-

ness Stakes at Pimlico, the first of the season's great classic races. There was a field of thirteen and Zev was much crowded. Then he displayed a fit of temper quite unlike his customary disposition. He fought and sulked at the post, and after the race was on he ran well for half a mile and then sulked again, finishing next to last. So contrary were his actions to his usual behavior that Hildreth deemed it necessary to give the brown colt another trial before the Kentucky Derby. He was shipped back to New York and started in the Rainbow Handicap at Aqueduct over the six-furlong route. He again came home in front, beating Dominique by two lengths in 1:12.

This exhibition entitled him to go to Kentucky, and by his performance in the Derby he placed himself at the head of the three-year-old division, beating twenty of the greatest of his age in the country. There followed in order his victories in the Withers, the Belmont and the Queens County, the last named destined to be his last appearance under silks for more than two months. While training at Belmont for the Lantonia Derby he stepped on a stone and injured himself so that Hildreth was forced to let up in his training. He did not start at Saratoga, although Hildreth considered that he was in shape to go during the latter part of that meeting.

Returning to Belmont Park, Zev carried colors on the opening day in a six-furlong sprint and won. His victory and injury in the Lawrence Realization are too recent to require comment. Zev has recovered and will go to the post against Papyrus fit to run the race of his life.

Much has been said of the playfulness and tractability of the winner of the English Derby, but Trainer Hildreth believes that he has a colt whose disposition is about as perfect as possible. Zev too, is a gentleman. He was easy to break as a yearling and always is ready to do what is asked of him in his training and in his racing. Only in the Preakness has he refused to give his best when called upon. He has a world of speed, can go the distance and is an honest and courageous colt, worthy to represent America against the winner of the Epsom Derby.

Interest in Eastern Games Centers In Battle Between East And West
Saturday

COLGATE TO MEET CORNELL

New York, Oct. 19.—Notre Dame and Princeton will top the football card that will be offered tomorrow in the east.

Perhaps the most important and hardest fought game of the schedule will be played at Ithaca between the undefeated Cornell and Colgate eleven, both of which are candidates for the championship.

Another game that will have a bearing at least on the final rating of the eastern teams will be played here between Pittsburgh and Syracuse. Pittsburgh, defeated by West Virginia is down the list now but Syracuse has made a most impressive showing.

Harvard plans to start a second string team against Holy-Cross by the Crimson may find the need for all the regulars before the game is over. Yale is considering a hard game with Bucknell, which has been going great all season.

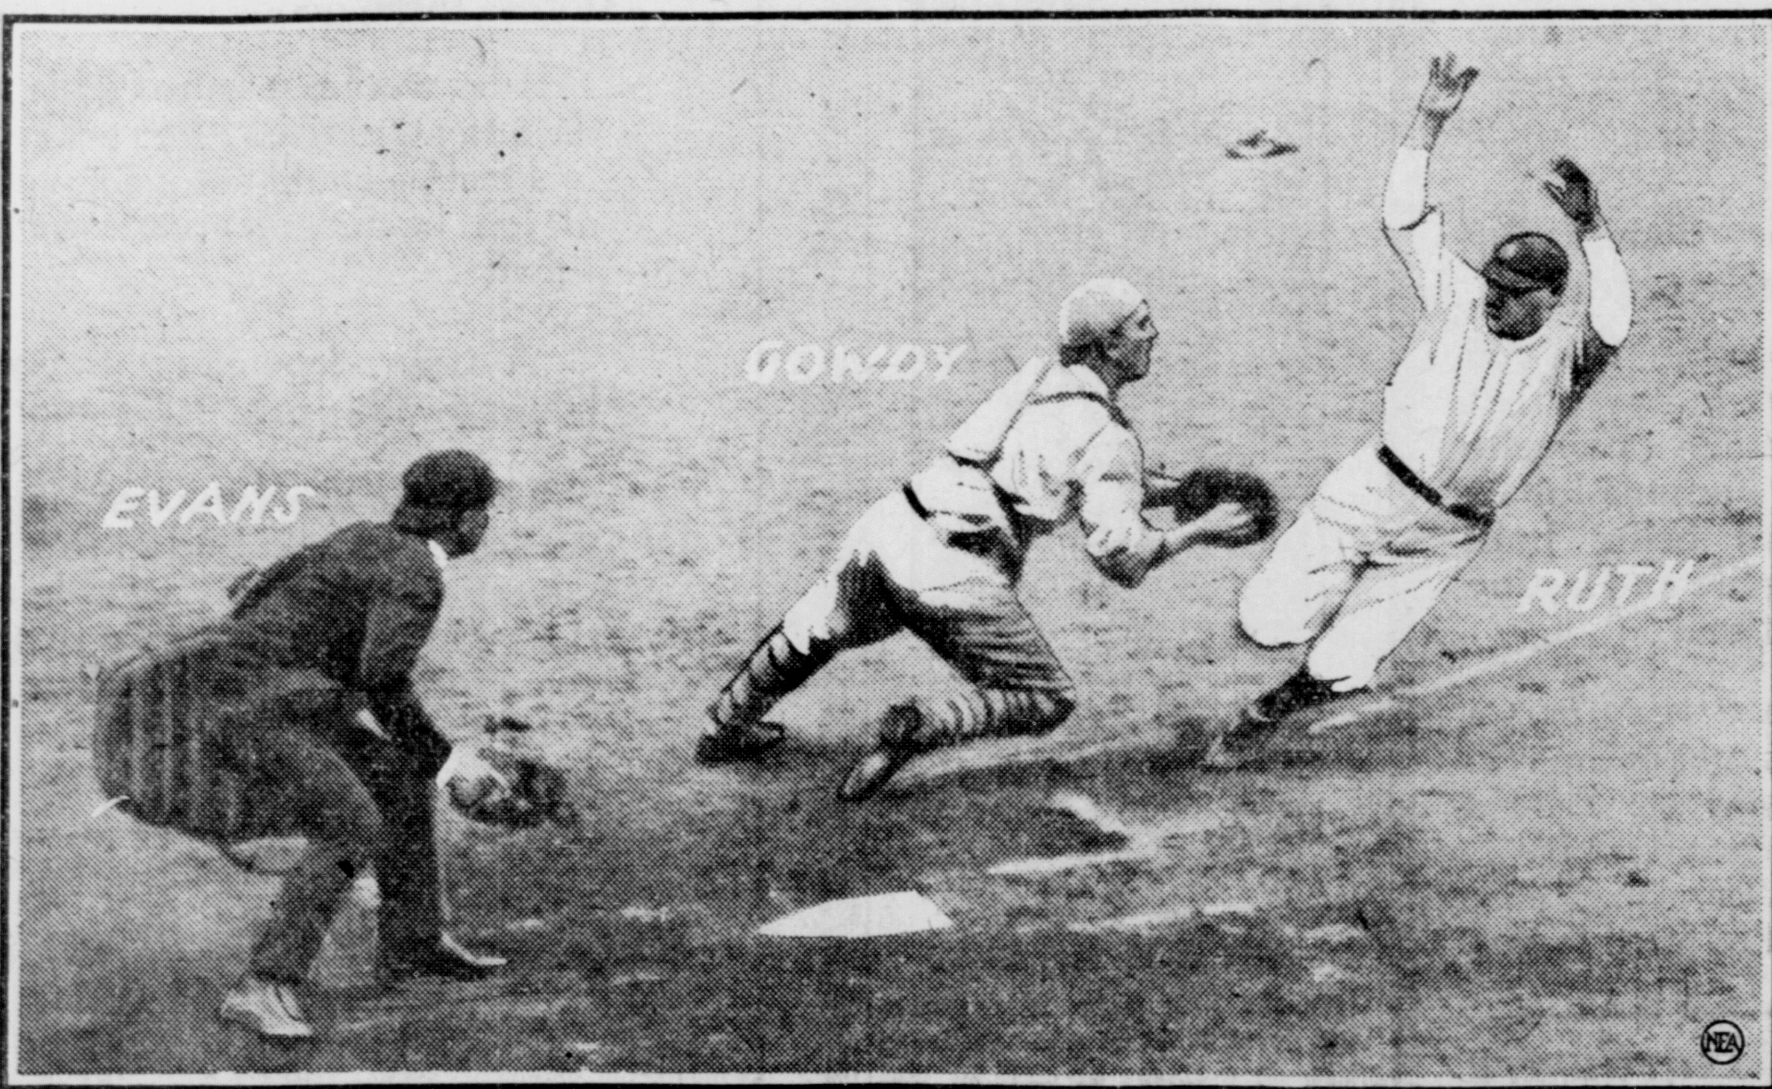

Pennsylvania plays Columbia in Philadelphia and the Army plays, another team from the south.

Wins!

Lieutenant A. J. Williams of the Navy, former pitcher for the New York Giants, took first honors in the Pulitzer Aerial Derby at St. Louis, making an average speed of 243.67 miles an hour.

Most Remarkable Action Picture of Series

Ball games are won on narrow margins sometimes. Babe Ruth was on third during the second inning of the fifth world series game. Pipp grounded to Frisch, who whipped the ball home. Babe came in and looked out a mile, but the big fellow, shown here just about to launch into a tremendous slide, evaded Gowdy's hand, thus scoring what proved to be the winning run in an 8 to 1 score.

ZEV'S RECORD

Laurence Realization, mile and five furlongs, $24,410, won; Untidy second, Rialto third.

Six furlongs, at Belmont Park, won; Big Heart second, Runviso third.

Queens County Handicap, worth $7,100, mile, won; Dunlin second, Nedha third.

Belmont Stakes of $50,000, mile and three furlongs, won, with Chickvale second and Rialto third.

Withers, mile, $5,000 added, won, with Martingale second and Barbary Bush third.

Rainbow Handicap, six furlongs, $2,500 added, won, with Dominique second and Rigel third.

The Preakness, at Pimlico, worth $50,000, finished twelfth in thirteen-horse field. Vigil, the winner, General Thatcher second and Rialto third.

Pomonok Handicap, worth $4,650, six furlongs, won, with Dominique second and Galantman third.

Kentucky Derby, worth $50,000, won.

Social Notes

Miss Donnan's Class in Literature will meet in the assembly room of the court house Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mahoning Council, No. 36, will adopt a class of candidates this evening in the Red Men's hall. A pitch-in supper will be served and all the members are requested to bring well filled baskets, their own dishes and silverware.

The first meeting of the year of the Music Study club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Veri Bebout in North Perkins street with Mrs. Kennard Allen and Miss Brenda Kinsinger assisting hostesses. A splendid program was given for the opening meeting as follows: Group of solos by Mrs. Charles

Offutt, "If Winter Comes," by H. M. Tennent, "Where My Heart Finds Rest" by Mary Helen Brown, and "Love Has Wings" by James H. Rogers; violin numbers, "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, "Lament Mood" by F. Dean Shure and "A Fragment" by Helen Bell Brown, Miss Mary Louise Wyatt; two piano numbers "March Fantastique" by Wilson G. Smith and "Nymphs and Fauns" by Frederick Knight Logan, Mrs. Veri Bebout; closing number, group of solos "Winter Memories" by Derstrand and Brown with violin obligato by Miss Mary Louise Wyatt; "You and Love" by Guy D'Hardelot, and "April Morn," by Robert Batten, sung by Mrs. Charles Offutt. Following the splendid program the members were served with delicious refreshments.

The Rushville Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their first regular meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. D. D. Van Osdel in West Third street, Thursday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of the new regent, Mrs. Elizabeth Amos. There were thirty members and two guests present. Three splendid reports of the state convention held at Bedford, Ind., were given by the delegates, Mrs. Bertha Logan, Mrs. Rena Warner and Mrs. Martha Grindle, and the regent gave her report on the regent's sessions. During the business sessions each member present pledged to pay their $2.00 per capita as the quota toward the $10,000 state endowment fund for the William Henry Harrison mansion and comply with state requirements. Mrs. Alva Eakin sang two beautiful solos, "Wake Up" and "Homing," accompanied by Mrs.

Baker on the piano. A book review of "Heart's Haven" by Katherine Evans Blake, a story of the Rappites, was given by Mrs. Scott Hosier. This book is the first of a series of fiction revealing American life which will constitute this year's literary work. During the social period the hostess and her assistants, the Misses Emma Casady, and Eva Ball, and Mrs. Elizabeth Caldwell and Mrs. Jessie Gary, served a dainty collation.

Miss Dorothy Rogers entertained with an informal social party Thursday evening at her home in West Second street. The guests were the Misses Helen Kirk and Marie McCoy and John Mullins, Bernard Joyce and Harry Jones.

Mrs. Chauncey Duncan entertained the members of the Grand Club Thursday afternoon at her home in North Perkins street. Cards were enjoyed during the afternoon and dainty refreshments were served.

WING COLLAR IS BACK, SAYS LAUNDRY EXPERT

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Well dressed men are showing a decided liking to the standing wing collar this fall, according to W. E. Fitch, general manager of the Laundry Owners' National Association, who addressed a men's style convention here.

"This tendency to wear the standing collar by men everywhere and in many walks of life is an indication of the increased interest American men are taking in their dress," said the expert. "For many years most men have considered this style of collar merely an adjunct of formal wear."

"This year a marked change has come about and the wing collar, preferably with a bow tie, has come into its own. It is in the laundries where these changes in the style of men's linen are first apparent. With the growing vogue for the wing collar, most men are asking for more starch in the shirt bosom, and a return of the semi-stiff shirt for business wear is already seen."

YOUTHS ARE ACCUSED

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 19. —Russell Butterworth, 19, and Lester White, 23, who told police they were "transients," are under arrest today on a charge of burglary. With the arrest of the two youths police believe they have solved a series of robberies committed within the last month.

Engaged

Mrs. Kennedy Wheeler, popular and attractive member of Washington's social set, is, according to announcement by her mother, engaged to marry Dr. Paul Lessinoff, first secretary of the Bulgarian legation. Wedding date has not been set.

Comedy Drama At Mystic

The commonly accepted meaning of the term "a horse-laugh" is not the meaning intended when it is mentioned that there is a splendid horse-laugh in "The Three Buckaroos". In this picture, a Balshofer production, the hero of the story rides into the scene of action astride a moth-eaten old nag whose most ambitious stride is a jogging walk—reminding one of the present ball-room dances—which excites ridicule. The hero soon finds the action which lured him from his Nebraska plains and faster locomotion than that provided by his steed becoming imperative, he decided to trade his old Dobbin for a hat. The store keeper to whom the exchange is offered takes one look at the horse—and there's where the horse-laugh comes in. It is not necessary to watch for this scene; if one is not looking away from the screen it is as inescapable as it is risible. The hero gets the hat—and more; he exits from the store with a pair of boots, too, and a kerchief.

"The Three Buckaroos" is being presented at the Mystic Theatre today. It is a comedy-drama. Its humor is easy and natural, hence really laugh-provoking. Its thrills are spine-tingling. And it has a delightful love story.

Western At The Princess

"The Sage Brush Trail" the new western which appears at the Princess theatre for two days beginning today is a picture which carries the utmost in adventure and romance. Written by H. H. Van Loan, the well known author of such screen successes as the "The Virgin of Stamboul," "The great Redeemer," and "Fightin' Mad," he declares it to be his greatest western, even surpassing the last-mentioned picture in points of interest. It takes the spectator on a fascinating journey to the heart of the West and offers him a story of rapid action and suspense.

The cast is of all-star proportions—including such popular favorites as Roy Stewart, Wallace Beery, Johnny Walker and Marjorie Daw. It is a tale of a fearless sheriff who reforms the toughest town west of the Mississippi through the skill of a trigger finger, but who is frightened by a pair of petulant lips. How he carries out his duty and obeys the tug at his heart is told in five smashing reels—reels which pack adventure and thrills and beautiful locations.

"The Bat" Returning

Wagenhals & Kemper, who present "The Bat" for a return engagement of one week only, for the week commencing Monday evening, October 22, at Shubert Murat, Indianapolis, Ind., are the aristocrats of the theatrical producing world. It was with the world's greatest stars that they made their first fortunes and fame. It was with the world's greatest mystery play that they re-entered the fold of producers. When they did have their own theaters those theatres were conducted with an elegance that was a delight to playgoers. The attendants were in full evening dress down to white kid gloves. Both Lincoln A. Wagenhals and Collin Kemper were in love with their work and the theatre from boyhood. They looked upon the theatre as something big and important. They made their productions with dignity and with great care and a feeling of responsibility. Not once has their name been associated with salaciousness. A play must be brisk and snappy, smart and modern to interest them, but at the same time their first insistence is wholesomeness. Risque plays may attain a short vogue, they say, and make a little money, but the real big money is found in cleanliness. The last successes depend upon real worth and merit, far ahead of spice and vulgarity. In place of shocks to the morals, they give the supreme thrills found in "The Bat." No play ever produced has given the same amount of enjoyment to the same number of persons. More than 9,000,000 theatregoers have seen "The Bat" to date, and never a word of regret has been expressed for attendance upon the play. This is a remarkable record. On the other hand, Wagenhals & Kemper have a file to their office ceiling filled with thanks for fine evenings spent with "The Bat" and others of their plays. For this engagement in the Mary Robert Rhinehart and Avery Hopwood masterpiece the producers are sending an exceptional company. It is the one selected with great care for the return of the piece to New York later in the season. This same company will possibly play Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, also and for this purpose a new production has been provided. There are several old favorites in the company from the special "Big Cities" company that smashed records here last season—in fact, five members to be exact.

"FABLES"

You Can Quickly Limber Up Sore, Stiff, Swollen Joints

Even Chronic Rheumatic Swellings In Knee, Elbow, Shoulder or Finger Joints Yield to the Mighty Powerful Influence of JOINT-EASE.

It's here, right in town and all druggists and every live druggist has it.

It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torture out of your troubled joints.

Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.

Just rub it on the tormented, lame joints and in just a few seconds it will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and get thereby, results much more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed. All Druggists.

WHITE HOUSE A MECCA, BUT VERY FEW SEE THE PRESIDENT

By DALE VAN EVERY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 19 —Almost any day at the White House brings callers representing a very fair cross section of the nation.

There are Cabinet minister and tourists, politicians and job seekers. Admirals and delegations, heads of departments and the merely curious among those who constantly stream through the entrance which leads to President Coolidge's office in the west extension of the White House.

Before the door there are always a score of photographers on the alert to get pictures of any persons of news consequence. The little room to the right within the entrance is the press room, from which newspaper men sail forth to interview those of the President's visitors whose words may be of importance.

The President arrives early. Though few of his official appointments are made for earlier than 9:30 important callers frequently turn up before 9. This is a favorite calling time for both Secretaries Hoover and Hughes when either has a question which demands a personal conference with the Chief Executive.

By 10 the rush of visitors is on in full volume. Probably not one in a hundred is admitted to the President. Many of them are tourists coming with letters of introduction from the Congressmen to get tickets to visit the White House proper. There are shepherded back and forth by the courteous White House police.

The newspaper men and photographers scan the arrivals closely. Most public figures are recognized at first glance. The official of importance generally consents readily to the photographing. But he is usually much shyer under the reporters' questioning.

Many of the callers who progress past the police at the door, past the secret service men in the hallway, past the clerk at the desk beyond, are calling upon Presidential Secretary Slep. Minor questions of politics and appointments reach him first.

Probably the most noticeable thing about the American public as it is portrayed by its representatives approaching the White House is curiosity. Large numbers of tourists, passing by and seeing the photographers assume the President is coming out. They wait for hours in the hope of seeing him. Others walk back and forth, furtively glancing through the windows, which on this side open on only the press room and the clerks' offices.

Visitors armed with letters of introduction get beyond the portals, but in entering discover only a large bare reception room. Most of these parties seem to be family groups. Invariably the woman marches ahead with the outstretched letter of introduction; next comes the children and at the end of the procession the man.

The police at the door have an uncanny memory. Newspaper men and visitors with appointments are constantly going in and out. But the first casual sightseer who assumes the building is open to the public is politely stopped on the threshold.

President Coolidge keeps long office hours. He is usually at his desk before 9. He goes to lunch

shortly after 1. On most afternoons he is still in his office at 5:30.

The public gets most of its direct news of the President on Tuesdays and Fridays. He meets the newspaper men on Tuesday at noon and on Friday at 4 P. M. During every day reporters representing the press associations and the local papers are on duty at the White House every minute the President is in his office, but on Tuesday and Friday's practically every correspondent in Washington comes to attend the President's press conference.

Only Few Cattle React

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 19.—Ninety-five percent of the cattle in Vanderburg county have been tested for bovine tuberculosis, according to county agent P. O. Wilson.

Out of a total of 6,887 cows tested, only 158, or 2.3 percent were found to react to the tuberculin test.

Veterinarians are making their rounds for the second time giving the re-test to herds found to be infected.

The state veterinarian will arrange for the five percent not yet tested to be given the test in the near future.

Louisiana Attorney General Names Day For Presentation Of Charges To Grand Jury

Alleged Murder Of Thomas F. Richard And Watt Daniel Of Morehouse Parish Is Involved

New Orleans, Oct. 19.—Whether the State of Louisiana has secured any "trump cards" evidence since its open hearing and subsequent grand jury investigation into mob activities in Morehouse parish, which culminated, it claims, in the murders of Thomas F. Richard and Watt Daniel, residents of the parish, on August 24, 1922, probably will be known shortly after Nov. 4.

This date has then been fixed by Attorney General A. V. Coco as the date for presentation of charges to the grand jury against several residents of Morehouse parish who, the State alleges had a hand in floggings, kidnappings and the killing of Daniel and Richard, whose bodies were discovered in Lake La Fourche following a mysterious dynamite blast on Dec. 22, 1922.

"Trump card" or "starting" evidence rumors were whispered about during both the public hearing and the grand jury investigation of the Morehouse trouble.

The state decided to file charges against persons it alleges had a hand in mob activities in Morehouse parish following the failure of the open hearing and special grand jury to bring in indictments. Among those against whom charges have been brought by the state and who are now under bonds are Captain J. K. Skipwith, an official of the Ku Klux Klan; Dr. B. M. McKoin former mayor of Mer Rouge; Newt Gray, Jeff Barnett, and others.

It Started Something

"I have not said anything to you, but have been saying to others and have induced many to take your medicine and be convinced. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is correctly named. It removed stuff from me I never thought could be in a human being and I feel like a different person. The pain in my right side disappeared at once, which four doctors said would require an operation; also the flatting and indigestion." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.

TEXAS KEEPS ITS NEGRO WORKERS

Outin, Texas, Oct. 19.—While industrial sections of the North and South are confronted with grave racial and labor problems in the migration of negro labor to the north, Texas, producing one-third of the world's cotton crop, has been practically unaffected by the negro exodus.

A survey of labor conditions in this State, conducted recently by State Labor Commissioner Joseph S. Meyers, showed that out of 43,811 persons shipped from Texas to other States by licensed employment agents, only 244 were negroes.

Nowhere in the South has the migration of the blacks been felt less. Though cotton planters report a scarcity of pickers, the shortage is no more severe this year than it has been in the past.

"From both investigation and observation of labor conditions in Texas, it is my opinion that Texas up to the present time has had practically no negro migration," Commissioner Myers said.

The state conservation department through its director Richard Lieber, has announced it will give $100 to any persons for information leading to arrest and conviction of persons using dynamite or other explosives to kill fish in the public waters of the state.

Through the sale of licenses the department annually raises a large fund which is expended in the reproduction of fish in state hatcheries for stream and lake stocking, and state officials do not propose that the irresponsible dynamiter come along and with a few blasts destroy the painstaking work of months.

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be a superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, J. N. Johnson, 699 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

JOE CLARK

"We are on the square"

Corn Huskers To Ask More

Indianapolis, Ind., October, 19.—No more than 50 per cent of Indiana silos have been filled this year, according to I. Newt Brown, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

Scarcity of farm labor, and the high prices which must be paid for the little available was blamed by Brown for the empty cylinders throughout Hoosierdom.

The situation is apparently acute throughout the state, Brown said. He said corn huskers this year would probably demand six and seven cents a bushel, against five cents paid last year, which was considered exorbitant then.

CONGRESSIONAL RECORD IS BEST

Places Before People Complete And Convenient Transcript Of Legislative Proceedings

French Record Is Fairly Comparable To U. S. Record In Most Respects And Superior In Some

Washington, Oct., 19. —Notwithstanding many jibes to which it is subjected, the Congressional Record places daily before the people of the country a more complete and convenient transcript of national legislative proceedings than is provided for the perusal of the people of any other country. The British parliamentary record is almost exclusively a record of debates with a record of the action taken on bills. There is no list of bills introduced, no publication of conference reports no list of executive documents transmitted to the legislative body. The French record made available for public reading is fairly comparable with ours in most respects and may even be superior in some. It is not so convenient for general use, since the debates of the two chambers are published separately and the leaves not stitched, so that handling is difficult and filing even more difficult. In Great Britain, also, the debates in the two houses are printed separately—a plan not so convenient as ours.

The French record of debates has one feature that adds to its usefulness. At the opening of the report of the debate in each chamber there is given a summary of the day's proceedings setting forth briefly the different subjects under consideration. A reader can quickly scan the topics and more easily find what he wants or ascertain whether there is any subject in which he has particular interest. The different subjects noted in the summary are numbered and corresponding numbers appear in the text.

The British record of debates has two features that would probably commend it to many Americans. Because of the small quantity of material it is printed in a pamphlet with pages about the size of the ordinary government document in this country, whereas our Congressional Record has very large pages. This advantage in the form of the pamphlet is more than counterbalanced by the inconvenience of having the records of the two houses published separately. Another feature of the British record is that where a member's speech is carried over from one page to another the member's name appears at the top of the new page so that the reader can easily see who the speaker was, without turning back to the previous page.

Our Congressional Record contains several features not known elsewhere. One of these is the publication of speeches not actually delivered on the floor. Here, as in other countries, there is not time enough for all to speak who wish. In this country this difficulty has been met by granting in the House of Representatives what is known as "leave to print" or to extend remarks in the Record. Thus a member is given opportunity to express the views officially and make them available for his constituents. This privilege is practically as valuable as the right to talk on the floor, for in a large proportion of instances a man talks chiefly to empty benches unless the importance of the subject or his reputation as an orator draws members to their seats. Minority members are not always assured an opportunity to be heard in other countries.

In both Houses in our Congress a member is given opportunity to revise his remarks, thus correcting inaccuracies incident to extemporaneous speech. Where an address occupies more than one day, publication may be withheld and the speech printed as a whole, when complete. It will thus be seen that as a source of information concerning legislative business our Congressional Record has several superior features.

Firm, Plump Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

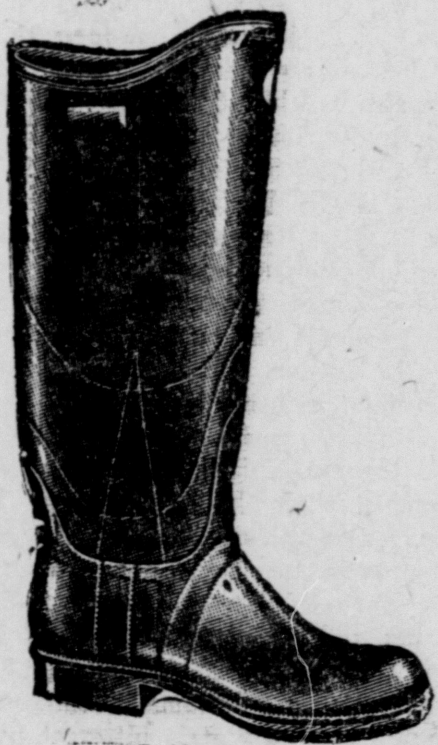

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth.

S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

PLANS ODD WORK ON STATE ROAD

State Highway Commission Will Take Care Of Small Things Not In-

TO RAISE AND WIDEN FILLS

Some Big Fills Will Be Completed
In Clinton County This Fall,
Highway Director Says

Indianapolis, Ind., October, 19.—While the Indiana highway commission is launched on a very extensive construction program on the main routes of the state, it has not neglected the little things such as small construction work here and there on the remainder of the system necessary to make these roads servicable for traffic and prove their worth as feeders or laterals twelve months in the year, John D. Williams, state road director, said today in discussing the commission's building program for the next three years.

One class of work much needed is the raising and widening of narrow fills, he said, in order to make them safe and also to elevate them above high water during fall and spring rains when many Hoosier streams overflow and inundate lowlands. In some cases in the past streams overflowed to the extent that portions of a few state roads were closed temporarily to traffic, acting as a great barrier to continuous transportation, he pointed out.

Raising of two big fills north of Clinton will be completed in a few days, according to the director, work on which is being done by maintenance forces. Here the road is inundated each year by overflow waters from the Wabash river, and in case of continued rains, often closed for several weeks at a stretch, until flood waters subside. One of the fills is 1500-feet; the other is half a mile in length. The height of these fills is such that the road will always be above high water stage unless in the case of an extreme flood with the result that traffic will be greatly facilitated in Spring and Fall.

Similar work has been done by maintenance forces between Lawrenceburg and Aurora where a low place in the road usually was inundated several times each year tying up traffic between Aurora and Cincinnati. Hundreds of small fills have been raised and widened on the state system, reducing the handicap to traffic from ordinary floods, making the fills safer and expediting traffic twelve months in the year.

Highway officials call attention that many steep grades in the hilly parts of southern Indiana have been reduced either by cutting them down or by relocation. In fact thousands of these places have been reduced, menaces to safe traffic removed, and traffic expedited, all by maintenance forces. In the case of the larger construction projects let to contract such conditions are taken care of in the specifications.

POLICE DOCKET HEAVY

Indianapolis, Ind., October, 19.—Indianapolis will need another police court if the docket continues as heavy for the remainder of the year as it has the first nine months, according to Judge Delbert O. Wilmet, city judge. Statistics in Judge Wilmet's office show that 25,559 cases have been tried in city court since Jan. 1, compared with 20,267 for the same period last year.

EXTREME DRYS WIN A VICTORY

Only Two Dissenting Votes on Mem-

By EDWARD C. DERR

extreme dry wing of the governor's
conference won a sweeping victory in
their stand for rigid enforcement of
the prohibition laws just before the
annual conference adjourned here at
noon today.

A memorial addressed to President
Coolidge calling for bone dry enforcement of the Volstead act and
pledging every power at the command
of state executives in wiping out liquor law violations, was passed with
but two dissenting votes, and one

Governor Silzer of New Jersey
and Governor Parker of Louisiana
voted against the memorial while
Governor Blaine of Wisconsin bolted
the session and refused to cast a ballot.

The memorial said:
"An overwhelming majority of the
citizens of the United States are
law-abiding and desirous of the enforcement of law.

"The national government alone
has control of the manufacturing of
wine and spirituous liquor contrary to
the laws of the United States. The
individual states are powerless to
national government should exercise
dealing with these questions.

"We believe that the chief execu-
in the enforcement of the prohibition law and should urge upon every state official a strict observance
and enforcement of the same; and

federal officers should cooperate fully
prohibition laws in making effective
the will of our people in regards to
this enforcement. New conditions impose new responsibility. People who
violate one law will the more readily
be guilty of violation of other laws.
Therefore, the individual states

Causing Collision Near Arlington,

Ethert Swift, age 27, 920 East
Market street, Indianapolis, was
arraigned in police court Thursday
afternoon before Mayor Thomas, on
three charges which were preferred
by Francis M. Christensen, 1808
Mansfield Ave., Indianapolis, as the
result of an automobile accident 1/2
mile west of Arlington on October 7.
After hearing the evidence,
Mayor Thomas found him guilty on
the charge of unlawfully operating
a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, and a fine of $25
and costs, amounting in all to $43,
was assessed. Judgment on the
charges of driving with glaring lights
side of the road, was withheld, and
the charges were nolleed.

Several witnesses were introduced.
The prosecuting witness was enroute
to Indianapolis, after attending a
family reunion in Franklin county.
Evidence for the state showed that
their machine was on the right side
going east, in passing them crashed
into and sent Christensen's machine
into the ditch. Witnesses testified
that Swift was intoxicated. He was unable to pay the fine, and was in
jail today, expecting friends from
Indianapolis to come to his rescue.
The case was filed in police court
here, on account of no justice of

CONDITION STILL

May Not Recover From Injuries

Jerry McDaniel, who suffered a
trampled on by a heavy team of
horses at the Sipe farm west of Carthage, remains about the same, and
his condition is still regarded as critical.

Mr. McDaniel fell off of a wagon
load of corn, while feeding hogs,
falling between the wagon and the
horses. When found by his wife, he
was lying close to the team and
when medical aid was given, the
physicians stated he was uncon-
scious and he remained so for two hours. It is feared that complications
will arise, which may cause the death
of Mr. McDaniel.

Does Not Conduct Herself Pro-
perly, And Asks Divorce

The jury today in the circuit court
was hearing the case of the State,
on relation of Nellie Smith, against
Jacob A. Brown, a paternity suit,
and it was expected that the evidence would be completed late this
afternoon.

The parties reside in the New Salem vicinity. The woman said
she was 40 years old, and the defendant is about 65 years old. The
defense was attempting to place the
blame on other men. Several witnesses were called on each side of the
case.

The jury which was obtained this
morning, and heard the case today,
was composed of the following men:
Newton P. Jones, William L. Sum-
Horace Glidden, Frank Megee, Elmer
Gilson, Omer Gartin, William Gro-
cox, Thomas Miller, Marion Wagoner
and Charles Holden.

the circuit court is a divorce suit filed this morning by Charles Marsh, a drayman of Milroy, against Zella
Marsh, in which he alleges that she
was unclean in her house work, would
not stay at home with their 2 children, and that she would not cook his
meals.

They were married February 15,
1916 and separated October 19, according to the complaint, and in al-
men, the complaint sets out that on
the night of October 17, two young

Good Prices Prevail at S. H. Bowen

SOW AND PIGS BRING $102

The big sale of S. H. Bowen, held
at his farm near Orange Thursday,
brought good prices in all respects,
according to Mr. Bowen, who reported that one sow and pigs brought $102 and a Holstein cow of exceptional value was bid in at $152.

His sale included 55 head of Big
Type Poland Chinas, and every hog
sold well. Farming implements also offered for sale were bid in at good
prices.

A feature of the sale was two lots
of growing corn, in which one sec-
acre and another section of seven
acres brought $40 an acre, and these
prices topped the list for corn prices
in that vicinity.

In the B. V. Miller and Son's sale,
held near Arlington Wednesday, the
prize male hog, number 2, a fall year-
ling that weighed 540 pounds, was
sold to Walker and Buell, hog raisers of Adams, Ind.

TICKETS ARE GOING FAST

Amateur Dramatics

The work on "April" the home talent show to be put on at the Graham
annex auditorium Thursday and Fri-
day of next week, is rapidly round-
ing into shape for its first appearance on the stage. All members of
the cast have completely mastered
their parts both as to memorization
and stage bearing, impersonations,
etc. They have had a remarkably
parts and have accomplished it like
veterans, it is asserted.

It is to be remembered that this
patrons of amateur dramatics are
reminded they should feel it a privilege and novel experience seeing the
initial production of a play by such
a writer as Kenyon Nickolson, no
matter how good it may be, but those
who have any knowledge of the story
but what it will make a great hit
on any stage if properly conducted
and directed.

The play itself has a charming as
well as very humorous plot through-
out. It is not the ordinary "wishy-
washy" sort that can be doped out
interesting story and interesting and
humorous lines that should hold the
interest and attention of the audience from the time that the curtain
goes up for the first time until it
goes down for the last time.

The scene is laid in the living room
of "Rockmere," the Barrington home
show.

The time is the present, and the
thread of the story is as follows:
"Richard Barrington, the pampered offspring of a dignified old family, has fallen in love with 'Tot', Marvel, an actress. He has announced his intentions of bringing
her home to present her to his people for their approval. In the mean-
time, however, she figures in a wild
adventure in New York and does not
appear on the scene at the scheduled
time. With this situation in hand
and no apparent way out, April

and the national executive committee, and the grand celebration are
scheduled for its closing activities.

as Likely Choice of Teachers

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19.—Election of W. A. Denny, superintendent
of the public schools at Anderson, as
president of the Indiana state teachers' association, was generally con-
nual convention here.

The election will be held at the business meeting in Cade tabernacle
at 4 o'clock this afternoon.
Despite the statement of Benjamin Burris, state superintendent of public instruction, that he would not
permit his name to be presented as a
candidate for the presidency of the association, friends of Burris insisted that this name would go before
the floor of the convention.

With sectional meetings out of the
way, teachers centered their attention upon the general business meeting at the tabernacle. Dr. Arthur
Dean, New York, spoke on the "Seven
Ages of Education" and Miss Ada
Ward, of London, gave an address
on "You Americans" at the morning
session.

Luncheons of graduates of various
colleges and universities were scheduled for noon.

against the league is pending in
federal court.

tended Over Germany So As
Not To Favor Bavaria

employed Storm Bunkeries, De-

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Berlin, Oct. 19. — Socialists, whose
threat of a general strike helped to
force the federal government to back
down before defiant Saxony, dragged
another concession from the Stress-
mann cabinet today.

Promise that the state of seige
was to be extended over all of Germany so as not to favor Bavaria in
her quarrel with Saxony was made
when the Socialists demanded the
state of seige be lifted. The government also offered to withdraw General Von Loshow, dictator of Bavaria.

A mob of more than ten thousand and war cripples and unemployed today stormed bunkeries in the suburb of Neu Koelln.

Leaders demanded a loaf for each
of the men and offered pledges of
ment.

Bakers granted the request when
government officials gave their con-
sent.

National Dictator Gessler's dispatch of added troops to Saxony
where the elements of civil war
fumed was interpreted here today
as a graceful exit from the central
government's threats.

Disbandment of the "red hundreds" communist military organization of Saxony ordered by Gessler,
was said privately by high army officers to be impossible unless troops
came to the aid of police.

Doubt that the government would
now feel itself strong enough to use
the army against a recalcitrant state
was expressed in well informed quarters today.

Socialist threats of a general
government used the army against
with this antagonism of Stinnes and
the other big industrialists were
thought to have left the government
practically powerless.

Cabinet's Arrest Ordered

E. B. THOMAS AND WIFE VISIT HERE

Former Rushville Banker Glad To

Mr. Thomas Says Worth Of Federal
Land Bank In Porto Rico Has

Porto Rico, formerly of Rushville,
together with Mrs. Thomas, arrived
here shortly before noon today and
will visit relatives and friends in this vicinity until about the middle of November.

Mr. Thomas, who has been in San Juan for the past eighteen months as
head of the United States federal
land bank, is in this country on a
two months leave of absence and will
return to his work by December 1.
Most of the time, he will spend visiting, but he will return to Washington about the middle of November
for a conference with the federal
land bank board. Mr. Thomas met
with the board soon after his arrival
in this country.

The former Rushville banker asserted that his new work was very interesting, but that it was likewise
very exacting because of the vast
amount of it and the intricacies of
the land titles on the island. Mr.
Thomas said that the worth of the
bank to the people of Porto Rico
might be understood when it was
known that requests had been made
first year the bank was establish-
ed. Based on conservative estimates, it was not expected, that the
demand would run over one million
dollars.

Some legislation has been enacted
and more is in the course of enactment. Mr. Thomas stated, that will
make the business of the federal
land bank less complicated. There
is an office force of fourteen in the
bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were met in Washington by Mrs. James E. Wat-

With Booze

New York, Oct. 19.—Drastic action today was promised by United States District Attorney Hayward,
following arrest of eleven men in a
gigantic bribery conspiracy to secure protection from prohibition
agents.

A daring attempt to flood New York with New Jersey beer started
with a $1,000,000 bribe fund put up by New Jersey brewers, declared Hayward.

The brewers, Hayward said, had
protection not only from the law,
but rival brewers in Pennsylvania
who were attempting to cut in on
the New York business.

Arrest of the eleven men in a
hotel where they had met to meet
federal agents to pay the protection
money followed close on the heels of
padlock injunctions against fifty
four New York saloons by Hayward
who estimates there are two thous-
and saloons in New York openly

"PACE THAT KILLS," HE SAYS

Former British Premier Spends Day

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

With Lloyd George, enroute to St.
Louis, Oct. 19—Two weeks of American "campaigning" have done more
to undermine the health of David
Lloyd George than all the nerve shat-
tering, health-wrecking years of the
war, and the multiplied problems of
the reconstruction period.

Lloyd George says of himself,
"This," he said, "is the pace that
kills. No wonder you public men die,
if they must undergo this sort of

By "this sort of thing," Lloyd
George meant the rear platform
speeches, public luncheons, dinners
and receptions, "circus parade" rides
through crowded streets acknowledging the plaudits of cheering crowds;
shaking hands, writing autographs,
posing for photographs and still more
photographs, and all other incident-
America.

As the result of a very definite fear
that an attempt to carry through the
program mapped out for his tour
would cause a breakdown, or at least a serious straining of his physical resources, Lloyd George's tour
is today on a "day" basis. Plans are
not being made longer than 24 hours
ahead and not that far in most cases. From now until he sails back to England, Lloyd George will commit
himself only to such engagements
as he feels he can keep without hurt-
ing himself.

Lloyd George and Dame Margaret,
his wife, who is the guardian of his
health and well being, explained that
the reason he was able to come
through the war with its terrible
strain on physical and mental powers
without serious impairment of his
would steal away to Wales for a few
days and get close to his mother
earth. On these occasions, he would
with his wife and daughter and the
three of them would camp in a tent
for a few days. Lloyd George always
returned from such holidays thor-

Lumber Co., To Robert L. Tom-

Robert I. Tompkins has pur-
chased the stock of Julius K. Pinnell
of Indianapolis in the Pinnell-Tomp-
kins Lumber company of this city
and will become the sole owner of the
business, it became known today.

Negotiations looking toward the
dissolution of the business connections of the two men, of more than
twenty years duration, have been
under way for several days, but
the transaction did not take place
until Thursday, and Mr. Pinnell will retire from the firm Saturday night.
The stock will be invoiced next week.
Mr. Tompkins, who entered the
business with Mr. Pinnell April 18, 1903, said he had not decided what
the name of the concern would be
with the retirement of Mr. Pinnell.
It also has not been determined
whether it will be continued as a
stock company.

The lumber company was estab-
ago by J. P. Huffman and Mr. Pin-
nell. Successive partners of Mr.
Pinnell's, following the retirement
of Mr. Huffman, were Mr. Kemper, John
Engler and W. D. Root. After Mr.
Root left the firm, Mr. Pinnell conducted the business alone for a few years before Mr. Tompkins became
associated with him. Mr. Pinnell
has other retail lumber interests in
the state.

But on this American tour, he finds himself confronted with a new set of experiences and conditions. He can't run away. He's hedged in by cheering crowds wherever he goes. The only place he can rest is in a hotel room, whose quiet is disturbed by shrieking of traffic policemen's whistles and the roar of cities. On the train, he gets little rest because at every station people yell and whistle until he appears.

He tries going to his compartment on the train, or his room in the hotel with a dozen books, to shut out the world and rest by reading. He reads far into every night, and then Dame Margaret tries to make him take a nap in the day time. These naps have been seriously interfered with, and it is this breaking up of his cherished routine that has fatigued Lloyd George.

When Lloyd George discovered that some of the correspondents travelling with him accompanied President Harding on his last trip, he plied them with questions concerning that trip. He wanted to know all about it. Previously they had been warned by some of his secretaries not to talk to him about the Harding program, for fear of frightening him. "I didn't come over here to make a speech-making trip," said Lloyd George, talking it over. "But I find myself in the midst of something like a political campaign. I confess, I rather appeals to me."

The Lloyd George train was due in St. Louis at 9:05 a. m. today. After a drive about the city, he was to go to the Statler hotel, where a public luncheon will be tendered him, at which he was to speak. He will dine privately this afternoon leaving for Louisville this evening.

THINK OF FORD AS BUSINESS MAN

By EDWARD C. DERR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

West Baden, Ind., Oct. 19.—Voters in thirty states of the union have not yet seriously considered the proposed candidacy of Henry Ford for president, their governors told the United Press today.

Ford, they said, has many staunch friends throughout the country but there has thus far been no tendency on their part to launch a Ford-for-president boom.

—This is due, in the opinion of the governors, to the fact that Ford is regarded first and always as a business man and not as a politician or a "logical" man for the presidency.

"Ford is a popular figure in North Dakota and throughout the north-west generally," said Governor Nestos of North Dakota. "However, a presidential boom for him has not yet blossomed in that section of the nation. Ford might show up as a strong candidate in the northwest if the other candidates at the primaries are old guard politicians. The farmers are demanding economic relief, and will look to the man they think can get it for them."

"Ford has gained popularity among the coal miners of West Virginia, by the manner in which he has operated the mines he owns," said Governor Morgan, but that does not imply that the miners would be solid for him in a presidential race."

Throughout the south, apparently, the Ford-for-president proposal has gained little headway. Governor Brandon of Alabama said that so far as he knew, there was no Ford sentiment in his state. Governor Peay of Tennessee expressed the same opinion.

"I have not heard Ford's name mentioned in my state in connection with the presidency," said Governor Walker of Georgia.

Republican governors at the conference generally believe President

Coolidge will make good during the coming winter and have the unanimous support of the party for the nomination. It was significant that the Republican governors mentioned no other name in connection with the 1924 presidential race.

In New England, particularly, the Coolidge sentiment is strong.

Governor Cox of Massachusetts, Baxter of Maine, and Templeton of Connecticut, endorsed the remarks of Governor Mabey.

Democratic governors said that the names of Senator Underwood of Alabama, Senator Ralston of Indiana and William G. McAdoo are being discussed most frequently by their constituents for the democratic nomination.

"Alabama is behind Senator Underwood, of course," said Governor Brandon. He said Ralston seemed to be next in favor among the Alabama democrats.

Governor McLeod of South Carolina said his state favored Underwood, with McAdoo as a probable second choice.

In Tennessee, according to Governor Peay, the Ralston boom had gained considerable strength. The sentiment among Democrats in New Jersey is for Governor Al Smith of New York, Governor Silver said.

"We pledge you as governors our fullest cooperation in this effort." The resolution which was endorsed by practically every governor at today's session, came as a compromise after several of the state executives flatly refused to sign a memorial expressing sympathy with the Volstead law.

The prohibition problem was placed squarely before the governors for the first time late yesterday. In a two hour executive session the governors engaged in heated debate over a memorial on prohibition proposed by Governor Sweet of Colorado to be sent to President Coolidge before the executives leave this afternoon for Washington to meet the President tomorrow.

Governors of wet tendencies strenuously opposed the memorial as drafted by Governor Sweet. They objected particularly to the last paragraph of the memorial which, they thought, would put them on record as saying that the eighteenth amendment had distinctly bettered conditions in their states.

They pointed to widespread bootlegging and other evils which they said had grown out of prohibition.

The memorial was returned to Governor Sweet who, with Governors Pinchot of Pennsylvania and Trinkle of Virginia, redrafted it and present it for final consideration at the closing session today.

Coolidge Guards Position

By FRAZER EDWARDS
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 19.—President Coolidge's stand on dry laws will be swept away by the address he is to deliver to the governors here tomorrow, political observers believed.

No intimation of the president's position has been allowed to leak out. White House officials are as silent as "Silent Cal" himself.

Cabinet members steadfastly refuse to give any hint of the message which party leaders believe will play a big part in the fight for the Republican presidential nomination next year.

PRAYER IN THE MORNING:
—My voice shalt thou hear in the morning, O Lord; in the morning will I direct my prayer unto Thee, and will look up.—Psalms 5: 3.

Dry Law Enforcement

Though advance notices predicted that prohibition enforcement would be a leading topic of the governors' conference, in session at West Baden, it did not come up until late yesterday, and then the discussion was behind closed doors.

Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania is a notable example of a governor who is trying to use prohibition for personal aggrandizement. He recently made a very brazen statement regarding the responsibility of the federal government for the lax enforcement of prohibition and sought to clear his skirts. The Pennsylvania governor has found, however, that such tactics are not popular, especially with federal judges.

A Pennsylvania federal judge pointed out, after Pinchot's late flare-up on prohibition, that if the governor were a sincere friend of enforcement, he would try to relieve the federal courts instead of pushing all liquor cases to them, and thus make more certain that justice would be impartially meted out.

"Responsibility for enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment (its first with municipal and county officials, then with state officials," Commissioner Haynes says. "It is contemplated by the Eighteenth Amendment that the smaller violations be handled by local agencies, and that larger matters, such as conspiracies, sources of supply, fraudulent withdrawals, etc., be handled, in the main, by federal authorities."

One of the vital problems is the proper coordination of these various agencies, and Commissioner Haynes is gratified that in addition to the ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment and passage of appropriate enforcement legislation by forty-six states, progressive legislation has, within the past year, been adopted by twenty-eight states. In Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland and Mississippi the legislatures did not meet, while attempts in Alabama, Connecticut, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin to weaken, modify or repeal state codes, by legislation or referendum, failed.

A summary of recent legislation shows that in the states of Arizona, Arkansas and Florida acts were passed penalizing persons who operate motor vehicles while intoxicated, while in Iowa, Vermont and Virginia penalties previously provided for this offense were increased. The legislatures of Colorado and Ohio strengthened their "padlock" laws, which has proved such an effective weapon in the hands of enforcement officials throughout the country, while the new law which superseded the Woner Act in Pennsylvania provides for drastic "padlock" proceedings. This new law also provides for the abolition of licenses for so-called saloons and three-year penitentiary sentence for first offenders (covering all offenses). Increased penalties for second violation were provided by legislation passed in Vermont and Virginia. Several states enacted legislation during the last year making purveyor of liquor from the drinking of which death results, guilty of murder. The states passing such legislation are Florida, Illinois, Minnesota, Missouri, Ohio and Tennessee.

The first offense of possessing or using a still for manufacturing liquor was declared to be a felony in Indiana, Kansas, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon and West Virginia, while the Washington legislature strengthened this provision of the law. Maine enacted legislation making conspiracy to sell intoxicating liquor a felony for the first offense, while Minnesota made the same provision with regard to the sale of liquor to a minor. The legislatures of Indiana, Oregon, and Texas made it a penitentiary offense for liquor law violators to carry concealed weapons. Maine, Montana, and Pennsylvania enacted legislation providing for the seizure of vehicles containing liquor, while Florida strengthened her search and seizure law, increasing the penalties. Laws were enacted in Nebraska and Wyoming strengthening the provisions of the state code with reference to the removal of derelict officials. The South Carolina legislature passed an act empowering the government to appoint deputies, constables, and detectives to aid in enforcement. Nebraska enacted legislation making the destruction of evidence prima facie evidence of guilt. North Dakota eliminated the weak features of the state code, and adopted a resolution petitioning Congress not to weaken the National Prohibition Act. California and North Carolina each adopted a new code, incorporating substantially the National Prohibition Act and Massachusetts adopted a code, subject to referendum.

It is desired that many of the laws which have proved of especial benefit in some states be uniformly adopted, and laws which make the buyer as well as the seller amendable, and which provide for the forfeiture of citizenship papers or deportation of foreign violators, and uniform extradition for violators, standardization of essential evidence, etc., be enacted.

(Davenport, Iowa Times)

Senator Smith W. Brookhart's stock in trade is verbal trickery and deceit. He is a stout believer in Barnum's well known axiom that the American people like to be fooled, but the truth of the assertion that "You may fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time," may be painfully impressed upon him before long.

E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, publisher of Successful Farming and former secretary of agriculture, addressing a Davenport audience yesterday, declared the only purpose of his visit for 30 cents against the colonel was to show him up.

He cited as one wilful misrepresentation on the part of the junior senator, his denial that the war finance corporation loaned money to the distressed farmers of the middlewest. That the colonel could not plead ignorance of the matter in which this financial assistance was extended, was revealed in the statement of Mr. Meredith that the law firm of which Brookhart is a member, was the attorney for the one bank in Washington, Iowa, to secure such aid, and his brother a director of the institution. He cited records of the war finance corporation showing that only one of the four banks of the senator's home town found it necessary to use the corporation's funds to tide it over the period of depression, that being the Farmers and Merchants State bank, with which the Brookharts are connected and which borrowed a total of $46,313.00 from this federal agency.

Yet Senator Brookhart, speaking at Jewell, two days after Mr. Meredith had issued a statement to the Associated Press to the effect that the farmers of Iowa borrowed approximately $24,000,000 two years ago and that $17,000,000 of the principal sum, with interest, had already been paid, in reply to the former cabinet-member said:

"The most amazing part of Mr. Meredith's statement is the war finance corporation figures. He prates about my inaccuracies and then says the farmers of Iowa borrowed $24,000,000 two years ago from the war finance corporation. In fact, the farmers did not borrow one cent from this corporation. The war finance corporation is a Wall Street controlled institution that lends only to banks and selected cooperatives. These Iowa loans were all to banks. It made its red tape and rules of securities so offensive that the banks have paid off $17,000,000 of these loans."

Now what are the facts about this "Wall Street controlled" institution. Senator Brookhart knows as well as anyone else who has given the slightest attention to federal legislation in relationship to the farmer, that the war finance corporation was continued in order to finance the rural producers. The loans were made to banks because the difficulties which would have attended direct loans would have been unsurmountable. These loans were made only when the applications were based upon agricultural paper. It made no difference how good the borrower's security was, he could not borrow from this branch of the government unless he was carrying loans on agricultural paper to an equal amount. The whole purpose of the act, under which the corporation functioned, was to aid agriculture.

If we are reluctant about charging the senator with ignorance of a law with which he should be fully conversant, then he must stand guilty of the most pernicious form of dishonesty, that of withholding from those who give him respectful attention, the facts as they are known to exist.

Mr. Brookhart has a poor regard, indeed, for the farmers and the voters of the state generally, if he believes they can be misled by "sensational deceit" which is so plainly apparent as it is in the instance cited by Mr. Meredith.

NEWCASTLE HIGH TRIES NEW STUNT

Basketball Coach Will Handle Two First Teams With Several Games
on The Same Night

Newcastle, Ind., Oct. 19.—The Newcastle high school basketball season will open with two games on November 16, one to be played on the local floor against Middletown and the other at Hagerstown with the Wayne county netters as opposition. The first practice is scheduled to be held Monday evening November 12, or the next Monday after the last football game of the season at Marion, is played on Saturday. Twenty-eight games are on this year's schedule, and although the Indiana High School Athletic Association ruling states that no school in the association can have over twenty games on their schedule, the local school has a new plan.

Until the first school term of the year ends the high school will have two first teams, and after that period a regular first and second team will be picked. It is the plan of high school athletic officials to have at least four teams, if the local green and white athletes will respond. There are at least fifty boys in the local high school that know the first principles of basketball and even if they don't, when Coach Murray Mendenhall makes his initial call for basketball men next month, every high school boy is urged to turn out. As to the number Principal Valentine of the high school makes the statement, that, "they would rather have a hundred men out than the small number that usually show up, although practice room is limited.

Mr. Valentine is satisfied that N. H. S. has been relying too much on a certain small bunch of athletes, in the past years, and it is the plan to do away with so much of this.

On these two first teams the best material will be as equally divided as possible, and on the first game night one team will be taken to Hagerstown and the other team will remain at home. The team making the trip will not be chosen by its strength. With this new plan it will make it possible for players who are not so good to play with men who are much better than themselves, thus they will get a greater amount of experience. In previous years if a man didn't make the squad for the first game he generally dropped out.

The third and fourth teams will be used as second teams for the two firsts. It is not known yet whether or not a league between local high school net teams will be held, but something in this line will be taken up.

With Starbuck, Dann, Harlan, Fred, and Gaucher of last year's aggregation and an abundance of new material in school this year Newcastle should have a whirlwind team. Among the new men are Pete Jennings, Ernie Linchberry, high school football player, Johnnie Goggsell, Red Rozell, Floyd Plummer, Marvel Tarr, and a number of others. It is not known yet who will act as assistant coach to Mendenhall this season.

The schedule is bigger and better than ever this season, and there are six teams, who have not been on the green and white schedule for some time. They are Elwood, Technical of Indianapolis, Greencastle, both here and there, Greenfield, Shelbyville, and Mooreland. The schedule is as follows:

Nov. 16—Hagerstown there.
Nov. 16—Middletown, here.
Nov. 23—Hartford City, there.
Nov. 24—Mooreland, here.
Nov. 28—Lewisville, there.

NEWSY GOSSIP IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

FOOTBALL, BASKETBALL BOTH GET UNDER WAY

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Oct. 19.—With the idea of furnishing a program of general merit, large kicks and generous thrills, football could have been ordered better than the football schedule which will be played tomorrow all over the country.

The most interesting game, perhaps, on a schedule that is filled with hard contests and colorful spectacles, is the battle to be fought at Princeton between the Princeton Tigers and the "Micks" from Notre Dame, who are to make their second big shot in the east.

Princeton and Notre Dame will bring into action the most modern kind of play. Both are up-to-date and versatile and both are great opportunists. With a great backfield playing behind a very ordinary and, at times, a very poor line, the Tigers will not be represented by an eleven of the 1922 calibre, while Notre Dame is always powerful.

Both Princeton and Notre Dame are among the gamiest football institutions in the country. On successive Saturdays, Notre Dame had game arranged with the Army, Princeton, Georgia Tech, Purdue and Nebraska, while the Tigers assumed a tremendous load in taking on in succession Georgetown, Notre Dame, Navy, Swarthmore, Harvard and Princeton.

Feb. 8—Lewisville, here.
Feb. 15—Knightsdown, here.
Feb. 16—Connersville, there.
Feb. 22—Greencastle, there.
Fred Bills, of Lewisville, H. E. Miller of Anderson, and Harry Schomman, of Indianapolis, will officiate the home games.

Midwest Grid Briefs

Chicago—Fears of the Northwestern offense caused Coach Stagg to drive the Chicago team through long defensive drill.

Madison—Wisconsin ran through light signal drill today en route to Bloomington, Ind., where they meet Indiana Saturday.

Bloomington—Indiana expects to profit from a wet playing field in the Wisconsin game tomorrow. Little aerial work was given today in the final practice.

Pittsburgh, another eleven that arranges schedules on the theory "give us a hard game to start with and make them harder as they come" has another woe of a game with the powerful Syracuse team.

Pittsburgh started the season with Bucknell, followed with Lafayette and West Virginia, has Syracuse tomorrow and then takes on Carnegie Tech, Pennsylvania, Washington and Jefferson, and Penn State.

Some schedule!

The Navy, which has been having plenty of trouble all season, will be sure to find some more when the Midshipmen venture to Penn State for their first game of the season away from home. Hugo Bezdek always has the Penn State teams well equipped, even if the material at hand now is not as spectacular as it was two and three years ago when Penn State was ruling the eastern roost.

In narrowly missing some bumpings in the early games, the Navy, no doubt, was handicapped by the absence of Steve Barchet, the star back, and also by an unexplained inability to get in form. It might have been that the midshipmen thought too well of themselves, but this malady, if such, should have been cured by this time.

The powerful Cadet eleven from West Point returns tomorrow to its duel with the south by playing the Alabama Poly team. The Cadets disposed of Tennessee and Florida in the opening games of the season.

Iowa City, Ia.—Iowa walked through its complicated plays today for the last time before meeting Illinois.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Captain Kipke, Michigan was drying 60 and 65 yard spirals down the field today on the eve of the Ohio State tilt.

Lafayette, Ind.—Anticipating a wet field tomorrow Purdue went through only straight football plays today.

Appearance Of American Horses On
To Turf Men

(By United Press)
Laurel Race Track, Md., Oct. 19.—My Own, Admiral T. Grayson's 3-year old left here in a special car at 9:05 a. m. for Belmont Park race track.

By FRANK GETTY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Belmont Park Race Track, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Lumps have broken out over the body of Zev, which was to have met Papyrus in the international stake race tomorrow.

This information was obtained by the United Press today from a personal representative of Major August Belmont.

My Own, Admiral Carey T. Grayson's crack 3-year old, is almost certain to go to the barrier and meet the English derby winner Saturday afternoon.

Announcement to this effect is expected from the Jockey Club later today.

The sickness, of a nature as yet undisclosed, which attacked Harry F. Sinclair's Zev on the eve of the greatest international horse race in years struck suddenly Thursday. This accounts for the fact that Zev was not shown to the public yesterday.

Prominent veterinarians are examining the Sinclair colt. On the whole of Zev's body the mysterious lumps appeared. The veterinarians will give their decision later.

Papyrus is ready to meet My Own if it is found that the contract under which the English horse was brought here provides for such an eleventh hour substitution.

Papyrus had a brisk canter this morning and pulled up very fit. He will not work again before the race.

Those who bet on Zev were thrown into confusion by the possibility of a substitute and there were many arguments as to whether the bets placed on Zev would stand as made on My Own in case the Grayson colt replaced the Sinclair star.

Despite the announcement of lumps from which Zev is suffering the American horse appeared on the track at about ten minutes past nine and worked half a mile at a gallop in .47 seconds.

As he passed the stands Zev showed no signs of the reported malady, but he was hustled around the turn and back to the Ramocas stables before any of the turf men who remained at the track had an opportunity for a close look at him.

impressive but he went along well with Laverns Factor up.

The run made tomorrow's program all the more uncertain. Where early in the morning the statement concerning lumps that appeared on the horse's body led everyone to expect My Own would be substituted, the appearance of the Sinclair colt made it possible that he might yet go to the post.

PAPYRUS REPRESENTS HIGHEST PRICE IN BLOOD

For Three-Year-Old Champion-
ship of World October 20

SON OF FAMOUS TRACERY

New York, Oct. 19.—Bluer blood may be found in the veins of other aristocrats of the equine set, but certainly no higher price blood can be found than is represented in Papyrus, the English Derby winner, who is to represent England in the race for the three-year-old championship of the world, at Belmont Park, on October 20.

The father of Papyrus was Tracery, who was sold by August Belmont, the American turfman, at the age of 18 months, to an Argentine sportsman for $265,000, the highest price ever paid for a horse.

The dam of Papyrus was Miss Matty, by Marceuil, out of Simonath. Papyrus was foaled at Worksop, Nottinghamshire, at the breeding farm of Sir John Robinson. At the Doncaster sales in 1921 he was sold to Benjamin Irish, gentleman farmer of Lincolnshire, for 3,500 guineas.

The grandfather of Papyrus was Rock Sand, Kentucky Derby winner, who was sold later for $150,000 the second highest price ever paid for a horse.

Papyrus is a beautiful animal. His conformation is almost perfect, although some super-critics have remarked that his head is "rather coarse". For an animal of such unusual breeding, he is very mild-mannered, kindly disposed and extremely sensible.

KANSAS CITY HAS EDGE

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 19.—The Baltimore and Kansas City baseball teams were enroute to Baltimore today to complete their minor league world's series. By winning Thursday's game 5 to 2, Kansas City now has a lead in games of 3 to 1.

SHOWERS FOR RACE

New York, Oct. 19.—Showers were forecast for Saturday, day of the international horse race, by the weather bureau here today. Admiral Grayson, owner of My Own, which may be called on to race the English horse has heretofore stipulated that he will not permit his horse to race on a wet track.

BEST BLOOD IN WORLD

Has Had Splendid Record in Racing
Since June 1922 and May Set
Pace in Coming Classic

New York, Oct. 19.—Zev, the three-year-old son of The Finn and Miss Kearney, that is to carry the American standard against Papyrus in the $100,000 international championship race, is generally regarded by turfmen as the outstanding American colt since the great Man o' War started setting the marks for the equine posterity to shoot at.

The good looking Ranceocas colt in two seasons on the turf has won $174,913 and he seems almost sure to go beyond the record of Man o' War, whose earnings of $249,465 made him the greatest winner of the American turf.

Zev, like his illustrious opponent in the coming race, is a royally bred colt. In his veins is some of the best blood in the world. His sire The Finn—Miss Kearney, his sire having been a famous stake winner in his day. The Finn's sire and dam were Orden and Livonia, while Miss Kearney is by Planudes—Court Plaster. Orden and Livonia carry to Zev the blood lines of such famous racers as Ben d'Or, Isinglass, Bayon d'Or, Doncaster and Isomony, while through Planudes and Court Plaster he has the strains of the blood of Galopin and St. Simon.

Zev has had a splendid racing record from June 14, 1922, when he made the first start of his career under colors, to Sept. 8 this year, when he won the Lawrence Realization. Bred by John E. Madden, by The Finn—Miss Kearney, his sire acquired at Saratoga by the Ranceocas Stable, with another yearling, for a price of $12,500. His first start was in a condition race at five furlongs, but Trainer Hildreth declared to win with his stablemate, Whirlwind and Zev was beaten.

Zev was rather slow to reach his best form, although in his twelve starts as a two-year-old he was unbeaten only once. It was during the Saratoga meeting that the brown colt shone as a two-year-old, winning five straight races. The Grand Union Hotel Stakes was his first classic. He followed this victory by taking the Albany Handicap. In the Hopewell he was third to Dunlin and Goshawk, while in the Futurity he was kicked at the post and was beaten by Sally's Alley. This injury ended his two-year-old racing, as Hildreth was forced to throw him out of training.

The three-year-old history of the handsome brown colt is familiar to all followers of thoroughbred racing. His opening endeavor was auspicious. He made his debut on the first day of the metropolitan season at the Jamaica track and won the Pameonok Handicap at six furlongs, carrying 109 pounds and beating Dominique by a neck in a great finish.

ness Stakes at Pimlico, the first of the season's great classic races. There was a field of thirteen and Zev was much crowded. Then he displayed a fit of temper quite unlike his customary disposition. He fought and sukked at the post, and after the race was on he ran well for half a mile and then sukked again, finishing next to last. So contrary were his actions to his usual behavior that Hildreth deemed it necessary to give the brown colt another trial before the Kentucky Derby. He was shipped back to New York and started in the Rainbow Handicap at Aqueduct over the six-furlong route. He again came home in front, beating Dominique by two lengths in 1:12.

This exhibition entitled him to go to Kentucky, and by his performance in the Derby he placed himself at the head of the three-year-old division, beating twenty of the greatest of his age in the country. There followed in order his victories in the Withers, the Belmont and the Queens County, the last named destined to be his last appearance under silks for more than two months. While training at Belmont for the Lantonia Derby he stepped on a stone and injured himself so that Hildreth was forced to let up in his training. He did not start at Saratoga, although Hildreth considered that he was in shape to go during the latter part of that meeting.

Returning to Belmont Park, Zev carried colors on the opening day in a six-furlong sprint and won. His victory and injury in the Lawrence Realization are too recent to require comment. Zev has recovered and will go to the post against Papyrus fit to run the race of his life.

Much has been said of the playfulness and tractability of the winner of the English Derby, but Trainer Hildreth believes that he has a colt whose disposition is about as perfect as possible. Zev too, is a gentleman. He was easy to break as a yearling and always is ready to do what is asked of him in his training and in his racing. Only in the Preakness has he refused to give his best when called upon. He has a world of speed, can go the distance and is an honest and courageous colt, worthy to represent America against the winner of the Epsom Derby.

PRINCETON, NOTRE DAME TOP THE CARD

Saturday

COLGATE TO MEET CORNELL

New York, Oct. 19.—Notre Dame and Princeton will top the football card that will be offered tomorrow in the east.

Perhaps the most important and hardest fought game of the schedule will be played at Ithaca between the undefeated Cornell and Colgate elevens, both of which are candidates for the championship.

Another game that will have a bearing at least on the final rating of the eastern teams will be played here between Pittsburgh and Syracuse. Pittsburgh, defeated by West Virginia is down the list now but Syracuse has made a most impressive showing.

Harvard plans to start a second string team against Holy-Cross by the Crimson may find the need for all the regulars before the game is over. Yale is considering a hard game with Bucknell, which has been going great all season.

Pennsylvania plays Columbia in Philadelphia and the Army plays, another team from the south.

● Ball games are won on narrow margins sometimes. Babe Ruth was on third during the second inning of the fifth world series game. Pipp grounded to Frisch, who whipped the ball home. Babe came in and looked out a mile, but the big fellow, shown here just about to launch into a tremendous slide, graded Gowdy's head, thus scoring what proved to be the winning run in an 8 to 1 score.

ZEV'S RECORD

Laurence Realization, mile and five furlongs, $24,410, won; Untidy second, Rialto third.

Six furlongs, at Belmont Park, won; Big Heart second, Runvisio third.

Queens County Handicap, worth $7,100, mile, won; Dunlin second, Nedha third.

Belmont Stakes of $50,000, mile and three furlongs, won, with Chickvale second and Rialto third.

Withers, mile, $5,000 added, won, with Martingale second and Barbary Bush third.

Rainbow Handicap, six furlongs, $2,500 added, won, with Dominique second and Rigel third.

Pomonok Handicap, worth $1,650, six furlongs, won, with Dominique second and Glantman third.

Wins!

Miss Donnan's Class in Literature will meet in the assembly room of the court house Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mahoning Council, No. 36, will adopt a class of candidates this evening in the Red Men's hall. A pitch-in supper will be served and all the members are requested to bring well filled baskets, their own dishes and silverware.

The first meeting of the year of the Music Study club was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Veri Behout in North Perkins street with Mrs. Kennard Allen and Miss Brenda Kinsinger assisting hostesses. A splendid program was given for the opening meeting as follows: Group of solos by Mrs. Charles

Offutt, "If Winter Comes," by H. M. Tennent, "Where My Heart Finds Rest" by Mary Helen Brown, and "Love Has Wings" by James H. Rogers; violin numbers, "To a Wild Rose" by McDowell, "Lament Mood" by F. Dean Shure and "A Fragment" by Helen Bell Brown, Miss Mary Louise Wyatt; two piano numbers "March Fantastique" by Wilson G. Smith and "Nymphs and Fauns" by Frederick Knight Logan, Mrs. Veri Behout; closing number, group of solos "Winter Memories" by Dertrand and Brown with violin obligato by Miss Mary Louise Wyatt; "You and Love" by Guy D'Hardelot, and "April Morn'" by Robert Batten, sung by Mrs. Charles Offutt. Following the splendid program the members were served with delicious refreshments.

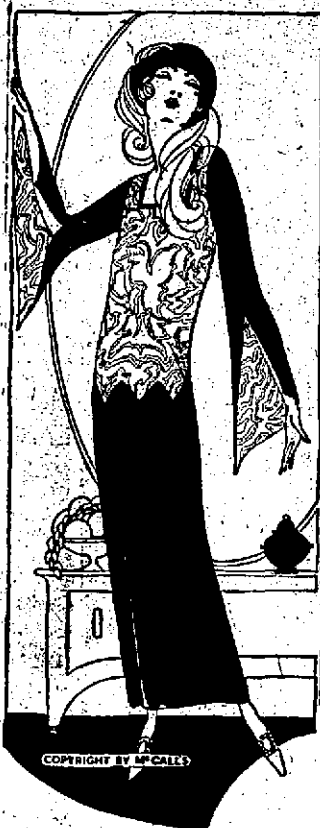

The Rushville Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their first regular meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. D. D. Van-Osdel in West Third street, Thursday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of the new regent, Mrs. Elizabeth Amos. There were thirty members and two guests present. Three splendid reports of the state convention held at Bedford, Ind., were given by the delegates, Mrs. Bertha Logan, Mrs. Rena Warner and Mrs. Martha Grindle, and the regent gave her report on the regent's sessions. During the business sessions each member present pledged to pay their $2.00 per capita as the quota toward the $10,000 state endowment fund for the William Henry Harrison mansion and comply with state requirements. Mrs. Alva Eakin sang two beautiful solos, "Wake Up" and "Homing," accompanied by Mrs

Baker on the piano. A book review of "Heart's Haven" by Katherine Evans Blake, a story of the Rappites, was given by Mrs. Scott Hosier. This book is the first of a series of fiction revealing American life which will constitute this year's literary work. During the social period the hostess and her assistants, the Misses Emma Casady, and Eva Ball, and Mrs. Elizabeth Caldwell and Mrs. Jessie Gary, served a dainty collation.

Miss Dorothy Rogers entertained with an informal social party Thursday evening at her home in West Second street. The guests were the Misses Helen Kirk and Marie McCoy and John Mullins, Bernard Joyce and Harry Jones.

Mrs. Chauncey Duncan entertained the members of the Grand Club Thursday afternoon at her home in North Perkins street. Cards were enjoyed during the afternoon and dainty refreshments were served.

WING COLLAR IS BACK, SAYS LAUNDRY EXPERT

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Well dressed men are showing a decided liking to the standing wing collar this fall, according to W. E. Fitch, general manager of the Laundry Owners' National Association, who addressed a men's style convention here.

"This tendency to wear the standing collar by men everywhere and in many walks of life is an indication of the increased interest American men are taking in their dress," said the expert. "For many years most men have considered this style of collar merely an adjunct of formal wear.

"This year a marked change has come about and the wing collar, preferably with a bow tie, has come into its own. It is in the laundries where these changes in the style of men's linen are first apparent. With the growing vogue for the wing collar, most men are asking for more starch in the shirt bosom, and a return of the semi-stiff shirt for business wear is already seen."

YOUTHS ARE ACCUSED

Fort Wayne, Ind., Oct. 19.—Russell Butterworth, 19, and Lester White, 23, who told police they were "transients," are under arrest today on a charge of burglary. With the arrest of the two youths police believe they have solved a series of robberies committed within the last month.

Engaged

Mrs. Kennedy Wheeler, popular and attractive member of Washington's social set, is, according to announcement by her mother, engaged to marry Dr. Paul Lessinoff, first secretary of the Bulgarian legation. Wedding date has not been set.

The Court of Last Appeal

YOU are the judge and jury. Your verdict is final. There can be no appeal—for this is the High Court of Public Opinion.

The wares of the world must appear before you—the product of every factory—the merchandise of every store. Those things that fail to measure up to your requirements are quickly condemned to oblivion.

The manufacturer who advertises deliberately places his merchandise on trial. He openly courts your critical inspection. He invites comparison. He directs your attention to his goods and then forces those goods to stand on their own merits.

If he were not sure of his wares he would not dare to advertise. For advertising would put him to a test he could not meet, and thus hasten the end of his business career. It would be business suicide.

You can depend on the man who advertises. He knows his product is good.

That's one reason why it pays to read the advertisements you find in this paper. It is through advertising that you are able to keep in touch with the good things that progressive business men are spending their money to introduce and to keep before you.

Comedy Drama At Mystic
The commonly accepted meaning of the term "a horse-laugh" is not the meaning intended when it is mentioned that there is a splendid horse-laugh in "The Three Buckyaroos". In this picture, a Balshofer production, the hero of the story rides into the scene of action astride a moth-eaten old nag whose most ambitious stride is a jogging walk—reminding one of the present ball-room dances—which excites ridicule. The hero soon finds the action which lured him from his Nebraska plains and faster locomotion than that provided by his steed becoming imperative, he decided to trade his old Dobbin for a hat. The store-keeper to whom the exchange is offered takes one look at the horse—and there's where the horse-laugh comes in. It is not necessary to watch for this scene; if one is not looking away from the screen it is as inescapable as it is risible. The hero gets the hat—and more; he exits from the store with a pair of boots, too, and a kerchief.

"The Three Buckyaroos" is being presented at the Mystic Theatre today. It is a comedy-drama. Its humor is easy and natural, hence really laugh-provoking. Its thrills are spine-tingling. And it has a delightful love story.

Western At The Princess

"The Sage Brush Trail" the new western which appears at the Princess theatre for two days beginning today is a picture which carries the utmost in adventure and romance. Written by H. H. Van Loan, the well known author of such screen successes as the "The Virgin of Stamboul," "The great Redeemer," and "Fightin' Mad," he declares it to be his greatest western, even surpassing the last-mentioned picture in points of interest. It takes the spectator on a fascinating journey to the heart of the West and offers him a story of rapid action and suspense.

The cast is of all-star proportions—including such popular favorites as Roy Stewart, Wallace Beery, Johnny Walker and Marjorie Daw. It is a tale of a fearless sheriff who reforms the toughest town west of the Mississippi through the skill of a trigger finger, but who is frightened by a pair of petulant lips. How he carries out his duty and obeys the tug at his heart is told in five smashing reels—reels which pack adventure and thrills and beautiful locations.

"The Bat" Returning

Wagenhals & Kemper, who present "The Bat" for a return engagement of one week only, for the week commencing Monday evening, October 22, at Shubert Murat, Indianapolis, Ind., are the aristocrats of the theatrical producing world. It was with the world's greatest stars that they made their first fortunes and fame. It was with the world's greatest mystery play that they re-entered the fold of producers. When they did have their own theaters those theatres were conducted with an elegance that was a delight to playgoers. The attendants were in full evening dress down to white kid gloves. Both Lincoln A. Wagenhals and Collin Kemper were in love with their work and the theatre from boyhood. They looked upon the theatre as something big and important. They made their productions with dignity and with great care and a feeling of responsibility. Not once has their name been associated with salaciousness. A play must be brisk and snappy, smart and modern to interest them, but at the same time their first insistence is wholesomeness. Risque plays may attain a short vogue, they say, and make a little money, but the real big money is found in cleanliness. The last successes depend upon real worth and merit, far ahead of spice and vulgarity. In place of shocks to the morals, they give the supreme thrills found in "The Bat." No play ever produced has given the same amount of enjoyment to the same number of persons. More than 9,000,000 theatregoers have seen "The Bat" to date, and never a word of regret has been expressed for attendance upon the play. This is a remarkable record. On the other hand, Wagenhals & Kemper have a file to their office ceiling filled with thanks for fine evenings spent with "The Bat" and others of their plays. For this engagement in the Mary Robert Rhinehart and Avery Hopwood masterpiece the producers are sending an exceptional company. It is the one selected with great care for the return of the piece to New York later in the season. This same company will possibly play Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston, also and for this purpose a new production has been provided. There are several old favorites in the company from the special "Big Cities" company that smashed records here last season—in fact, five members to be exact.

It's here, right in town and all druggists and every live druggist has it.

It's a low price remedy, to be sure, but that doesn't stop it from taking the kinks, lameness or torture out of your troubled joints.

Joint-Ease is the name, so called because it is compounded solely for the purpose of relieving all joint ailments.

will penetrate to the bone and blessed comfort comes quickly.

It absorbs instantly and is so clean and stainless that you can rub it on often and get thereby, results much more quickly, when the joint is inflamed and the agony intense.

Being such a powerful counter irritant, it cannot help bringing speedy and helpful results in congestion, sore throat, chest colds, lumbago and neuralgia much quicker than almost any remedy you can buy.

But you must remember that it is for joint afflictions that it is mostly dispensed and its helpfulness will astonish you after all ordinary liniments and other treatments have failed. All Druggists.

WHITE HOUSE A MECCA, BUT VERY FEW SEE THE PRESIDENT

By DALE VAN EVERY
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Oct. 19.—Almost any day at the White House brings callers representing a very fair cross section of the nation.

There are Cabinet minister and tourists, politicians and job seekers, Admirals and delegations, heads of departments and the merely curious among those who constantly stream through the entrance which leads to President Coolidge's office in the west extension of the White House. Before the door there are always a score of photographers on the alert to get pictures of any persons of news consequence. The little room to the right within the entrance is the press room, from which newspaper men sail forth to interview those of the President's visitors whose words may be of importance.

The President arrives early. Though few of his official appointments are made for earlier than 9:30 important callers frequently turn up before 9. This is a favorite calling time for both Secretaries Hoover and Hughes when either has a question which demands a personal conference with the Chief Executive.

By 10 the rush of visitors is on in full volume. Probably not one in a hundred is admitted to the President. Many of them are tourists coming with letters of introduction from the Congressmen to get tickets to visit the White House proper. There are shepherded back and forth by the courteous White House police.

The newspaper men and photographers scan the arrivals closely. Most public figures are recognized at first glance. The official of importance generally consents readily to the photographing. But he is usually much shyer under the reporters' questioning.

Many of the callers who progress past the police at the door, past the secret service men in the hallway, past the clerk at the desk beyond, are calling upon Presidential Secretary Slep. Minor questions of politics and appointments reach him first.

Probably the most noticeable thing about the American public as it is portrayed by its representatives approaching the White House is curiosity. Large numbers of tourists, passing by and seeing the photographers assume the President is coming out. They wait for hours in the hope of seeing him. Others walk back and forth, furtively glancing through the windows, which on this side open on only the press room and the clerks' offices.

Visitors armed with letters of introduction, get beyond the portals, but in entering discover only a large bare reception room. Most of these parties seem to be family groups. Invariably the woman marches ahead with the outstretched letter of introduction; next comes the children and at the end of the procession the man.

The police at the door have an uneasy memory. Newspaper men and visitors with appointments are constantly going in an out. But the first casual sightseer who assumes the building is open to the public is politely stopped on the threshold.

President Coolidge keeps long office hours. He is usually at his desk before 9. He goes to lunch

shortly after 1. On most afternoons he is still in his office at 5:30.

The public gets most of its direct news of the President on Tuesdays and Fridays. He meets the newspaper men on Tuesday at noon and on Friday at 4 P. M. During every day reporters representing the press associations and the local papers are on duty at the White House every minute the President is in his office, but on Tuesday and Friday's practically every correspondent in Washington comes to attend the President's press conference.

New Orleans, Oct. 19—Whether the State of Louisiana has secured any "trump cards" evidence since its open hearing and subsequent grand jury investigation into mob activities in Morehouse parish, which culminated, it claims, in the murders of Thomas F. Richard and Watt Daniel, residents of the parish, on August 24, 1922, probably will be known shortly after Nov. 4.

This date has then been fixed by Attorney General A. V. Coo as the date for presentation of charges to the grand jury against several residents of Morehouse parish who, the State alleges had a hand in floggings, kidnappings and the killing of Daniel and Richard, whose bodies were discovered in Lake La Fourche following a mysterious dynamite blast on Dec. 22, 1922.

"Trump card" or "starting" evidence rumors were whispered about during both the public hearing and the grand jury investigation of the Morehouse trouble.

The state decided to file charges against persons it alleges had a hand in mob activities in Morehouse parish following the failure of the open hearing and special grand jury to bring in indictments. Among those against whom charges have been brought by the state and who are now under bonds are Captain J. K. Skipwith, an official of the Ku Klux Klan; Dr. B. M. McKoin former mayor of Mer Rouge; Newt Gray, Jeff Burnett, and others.

The charges against the men range from assault and battery to conspiracy to murder, and as many as seventeen separate charges have been filed against some of the individuals.

Attorney General Coo has announced that he will press the charges relentlessly and ask the maximum sentences for those convicted. He expressed the belief that indictments will be returned against the majority of the defendants. The November trials will come in the midst of one of the state's bitterest political campaigns. Four candidates are already fighting for the governorship, with the possibility of others entering the race. Attorney General Coo is standing for re-election to his office on his fight against the Ku Klux Klan.

It Started Something

"I have not said anything to you, but have been saying to others and have induced many to take your medicine and be convinced. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is correctly named. It removed stuff from me I never thought could be in a human being and I feel like a different person. The pain in my right side disappeared at once, which four doctors said would require an operation; also the flatting and indigestion." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.

TEXAS KEEPS ITS NEGRO WORKERS

Outin, Texas, Oct. 19—While industrial sections of the North and South are confronted with grave racial and labor problems in the migration of negro labor to the north, Texas, producing one-third of the world's cotton crop, has been practically unaffected by the negro exodus.

A survey of labor conditions in this State, conducted recently by State Labor Commissioner Joseph S. Meyers, showed that out of 43,811 persons shipped from Texas to other States by licensed employment agents, only 244 were negroes.

Nowhere in the South has the migration of the blacks been felt less. Though cotton planters report a scarcity of pickers, the shortage is no more severe this year than it has been in the past.

"From both investigation and observation of labor conditions in Texas, it is my opinion that Texas up to the present time has had, practically no negro migration," Commissioner Meyers said.

The state conservation department through its director Richard Lieber, has announced it will give $100 to any persons for information leading to arrest and conviction of persons using dynamite or other explosives to kill fish in the public waters of the state.

Through the sale of licenses the department annually raises a large fund which is expended in the reproduction of fish in state hatcheries for stream and lake stocking, and state officials do not propose that the irresponsible dynamiter come along and with a few blasts destroy the painstaking work of months.

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be a superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil). The inventor, J. N. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

Corn Huskers To Ask More

Indianapolis, Ind., October, 19—No more than 50 per cent of Indiana silos have been filled this year, according to I. Newt Brown, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture.

Scarcity of farm labor, and the high prices which must be paid for the little available was blamed by Brown for the empty cylinders throughout Hoosierdom.

The situation is apparently acute throughout the state, Brown said. He said corn huskers this year would probably demand six and seven cents a bushel, against five cents paid last year, which was considered exorbitant then.

Places Before People Comments And Convenient Transcript Of Legislative Proceedings

French Record Is Fairly Comparable
To U. S. Record In Most Respects And Superior In Some

Washington, Oct., 19. —Notwithstanding many jibes to which it is subjected, the Congressional Record places daily before the people of the country a more complete and convenient transcript of national legislative proceedings than is provided for the perusal of the people of any other country. The British parliamentary record is almost exclusively a record of debates with a record of the action taken on bills. There is no list of bills introduced, no publication of conference reports no list of executive documents transmitted to the legislative body. The French record made available for public reading is fairly comparable with ours in most respects and may even be superior in some. It is not so convenient for general use, since the debates of the two chambers are published separately and the leaves not stitched, so that "handling" is difficult and filing even more difficult. In Great Britain, also, the debates in the two houses are printed separately—a plan not so convenient as ours.

The French record of debates has one feature that adds to its usefulness. At the opening of the report of the debate in each chamber there is given a summary of the day's proceedings setting forth briefly the different subjects under consideration. A reader can quickly scan the topics and more easily find what he wants or ascertain whether there is any subject in which he has particular interest. The different subjects noted in the summary are numbered and corresponding numbers appear in the text.

The British record of debates has two features that would probably commend it to many Americans. Because of the small quantity of material it is printed in a pamphlet with pages about the size of the ordinary government document in this country, whereas our Congressional Record has very large pages. This advantage in the form of the pamphlet is more than counterbalanced by the inconvenience of having the records of the two houses published separately. Another feature of the British record is that where a member's speech is carried over from one page to another the member's name appears at the top of the new page so that the reader can easily see who the speaker was, without turning back to the previous page.

Our Congressional Record contains several features not known elsewhere. One of these is the publication of speeches not actually delivered on the floor. Here, as in other countries, there is not time enough for all to speak who wish in this country this difficulty has been met by granting in the House of Representatives what is known as "leave to print" or to extend remarks in the Record. Thus a member is given opportunity to express the views officially and make them available for his constituents. This privilege is practically as valuable as the right to talk on the floor, for in a large proportion of instances a man talks chiefly to empty benches unless the importance of the subject or his reputation as an orator draws members to their seats. Minority members are not always assured an opportunity to be heard in other countries.

In both Houses in our Congress a member is given opportunity to revise his remarks, thus correcting inaccuracies incident to extemporaneous speech. Where an address occupies more than one day, publication may be withheld and the speech printed as a whole, when complete. It will thus be seen that as a source of information concerning legislative business our Congressional Record has several superior features.

Firm Plump Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth. S. S. S. since 1886, has stood for increased blood value. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill-nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

FIND SIMPLE LIFE ON SOUTH SEA ISLE

Portland, Ore., Oct. 19.—Down under our continent, on the small Pitcairn Island, 2,000 miles off the coast of South America, live 137 descendants of a few British sailors who two centuries ago mutinied, killed their officers, and settled on that little dot on the world's map.

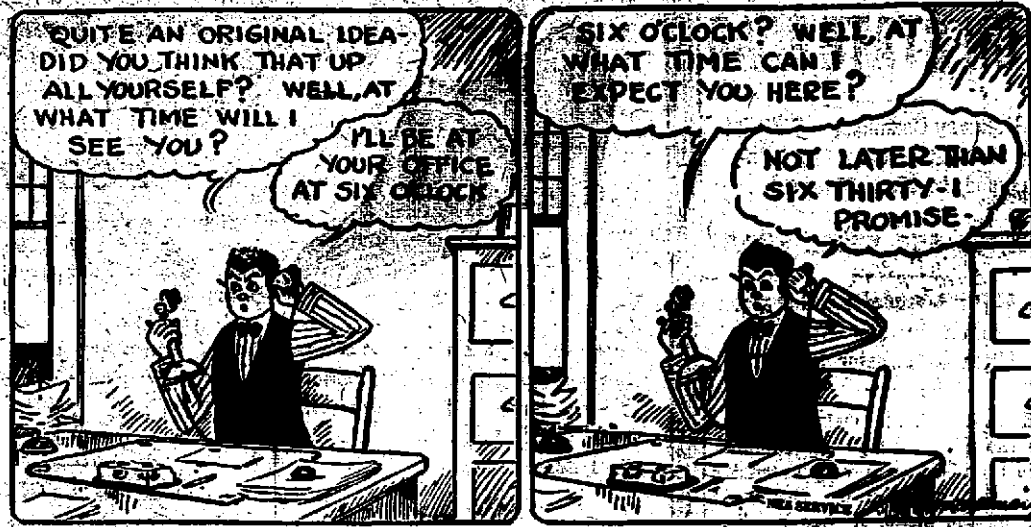

With Polynesian wives they took from Tahiti, the English refugees set up their own government, and there today their descendants live in utmost simplicity, but in happiness and contentment.

Not oftener than once a year they are visited by some steamer. The latest vessel to call at the island was the schooner William Taylor, with Captain John Trainor in command, which entered Portland harbor a few days ago, the crew revealing strange

Telltale Symptoms of Woman's Ills

Every woman who suffers from backache, headaches, dragging-down pains, nervousness, irregularities, displacements, irritability, or despondency should recognize in such symptoms some derangement of her system which should have attention before some more serious ailment develops. These conditions are often evidenced by a sallow complexion, dark circles under the eyes, lassitude and sleeplessness. For nearly fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been pre-eminently successful in overcoming such conditions, and it is now recognized everywhere as the standard remedy for woman's ills.

The islanders were in the best of health and spirits, Captain Trainor reported here, and not having had any communication with the outside world for more than a year, plied him with questions about happenings in other lands.

Despite the fact that the Pitcairn residents have exiled themselves from their homeland, they still cling close to things English, teaching their half-breed children the English language. Although their mode of living is almost primitive, they are very well educated, the schooner's master said. Still, they hold to their own and express no desire for additional comforts or luxuries.

Their needs are simple. They raise everything they wish to eat, and live on fish, native fruits and vegetables, all supplied by their own hands. Cloth, tools and other simple supplies are all they need from "outside."

For these meager necessities they exchange with the bargaining schooner masters who visit them at long intervals the bountiful fruits and nuts which grow wild on the island, practically the only thing they have to offer.

Washington — Ministers of six protestant churches here will join in holding simultaneous revivals at their respective churches beginning Oct. 28.

PRINCE OF WALES WANTED TO B A LONDON CABBIE

Buffalo, Oct. 19.—The early ambition of the present Prince of Wales was to become a London cabbie.

This information was revealed by G. Valentine, former hair dresser to British rulers, now residing here.

"He wanted to be a hack driver and he hated to have his hair cut," said Valentine, who exhibited two ornate paricments, heavily framed and bearing the Royal seal of Great Britain, as certificates of his appointment.

"It was my contact with the prince of Wales that I value most highly and of which I have the most pleasant memories," continued the former Briton. "From his early childhood until I left England the prince was brought to me at frequent intervals to have his hair cut. It was a job he never liked.

"The first intimation I had that the prince didn't care for the life which was to be his was when he remonstrated with the attendant who had brought him to the room in Marlborough house, London, in which I was waiting to cut his hair. The attendant told the prince that the dignity of his prospective inheritance of the throne of England demanded that he be well groomed upon all occasions.

"But that argument did not change the mind of the youthful prince. He said he had no desire to become king. In fact, he admitted he cherished quite another ambition.

"It was some time later when after gaining his confidence, I learned that his royal highness had long wished to become a hack driver when he grew to manhood.

"It seems he had been awed by the shining boots and the high hats of the cabbies he had observed while being driven about London. Perhaps he no longer cherishes that ambition, but he still seems to have a great love for horses and the trappings of the stable and the hunt.

"It is not that the prince would shirk the duty that is before him. He has no such intention, I am sure. But he is a man who loves freedom, and informality. And the king of England can have neither."

Barrington home and Dick persuades her to masquerade as his fiancée. Just when things seem to be running smoothly again, the real 'Tot' Marvel shows up and to add to the fun—late at night. The rest of the story deals with the many humorous complications that arise, one after another, from the situation that has arisen.

All who want to have a real evening of enjoyment and nearly laugh their heads off, are advised to see this comedy as it will be interpreted by the local cast. It rivals the famous "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean" in humor, and reminds those who have seen rehearsals of Booth Tarkington at his best. It is as typically American in the clever lines that are prevalent, as two boys bluffing each other on the street corner.

Tickets are selling at thirty-five cents each and reserved seats may be had at Pitman & Wilson's Drug Store Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock.

State Highway Commission Will Take

Indianapolis, Ind., October, 19.—While the Indiana highway commission is launched on a very extensive construction program on the main routes of the state, it has not neglected the little things such as small construction work here and there on the remainder of the system necessary to make these roads serviceable for traffic and prove their worth as feeders or laterals twelve months in the year. John D. Williams, state road director, said today in discussing the commission's building program for the next three years.

One class of work much needed is the raising and widening of narrow fills, he said, in order to make them safe and also to elevate them above high water during fall and spring rains when many Hoosier streams overflow and inundate lowlands. In some cases in the past streams overflowed to the extent that portions of a few state roads were closed temporarily to traffic, acting as a great barrier to continuous transportation, he pointed out.

Raising of two big fills north of Clinton will be completed in a few days, according to the director, work on which is being done by maintenance forces. Here the road is inundated each year by overflow waters from the Wabash river, and in case of continued rains, often closed for several weeks at a stretch or, until flood waters subside. One of the fills is 1500-feet; the other is half a mile in length. The height of these fills is such that the road will always be above high water stage unless in the case of an extreme flood with the result that traffic will be greatly facilitated in Spring and Fall.

Similar work has been done by maintenance forces between Lawrenceburg and Aurora where a low place in the road usually was inundated several times each year tying up traffic between Aurora and Cincinnati. Hundreds of small fills have been raised and widened on the state system, reducing the handicap to traffic from ordinary floods, making the fills safer and expediting traffic twelve months in the year.

Highway officials call attention that many steep grades in the hilly parts of southern Indiana have been reduced either by cutting them down or by relocation. In fact thousands of these places have been reduced, menaces to safe traffic removed, and traffic expedited, all by maintenance forces. In the case of the larger construction projects let to contract such conditions are taken care of in the specifications.

POLICE DOCKET HEAVY

Indianapolis, Ind., October, 19.—Indianapolis will need another police court if the docket continues as heavy for the remainder of the year as it has the first nine months, according to Judge Delbert O. Wilmett, city judge. Statistics in Judge Wilmett's office show that 25,558 cases have been tried in city court since Jan. 1, compared with 20,267 for the same period last year.

Successor?

Henry P. Fletcher, American ambassador to Belgium, is considered to have a splendid chance of succeeding George Harvey, resigned, as American representative at the Court of St. James. Fletcher is expected in the United States shortly.
